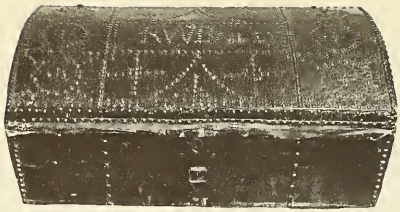
Rufus William Bailey, D.D.
Founder of Augusta Female Seminary



His trunk of 1842. Lined with an Early American wood-block wall paper

OVER the years we have been prone to forget the strong ties Mary Baldwin has to New England, through each of her founders, Rufus William Bailey and Mary Julia Baldwin.

Miss Baldwin's roots in New England were through her father's family which settled in Connecticut in 1639. Dr. Bailey's forebears from England settled in Massachusetts about the same time. He was born April 13, 1793 in North Yarmouth, Maine, educated at Dartmouth and Andover Theological Seminary, and spent nearly 15 years teaching, preaching and studying in New England before moving South for his health in 1827.

His coming to Staunton and the beginnings of the Augusta Female Seminary in 1842 are familiar history.

What's not so familiar, but certainly an integral part of an interesting life story, is what you see on the cover of this issue. It's a copy of the lining of the small (19x35x15) trunk which once held the worldly possessions of R. W. Bailey. It is assumed he used it when he came to Staunton in 1842.

Now mellowed and more romantic with age and use, the lining is considered an excellent example of early American wood-block wallpaper.

The trunk eventually found its rest with Harriet Peters Bailey, a daughter who became Mrs. John Lyle Campbell, wife of a professor of chemistry and geology at Washington College in Lexington. They were next door neighbors to Robert E. Lee when he was President of the college after the Civil War. They were also good friends of "Stonewall" Jackson.

Among the children of John Lyle and Harriet Bailey Campbell was Henry Donald Campbell, born on the campus of Washington College in 1862. He became professor of geology at Washington and Lee and was dean of the University for more than a quarter of a century. For seven years prior to his death, in 1934, he served as a trustee of Mary Baldwin.

One of the sons of Dean Campbell, and a great-grandson of Rufus W. Bailey, is Edmund D. Campbell, of Washington, long-time president of the Mary Baldwin Board of Trustees and now the Board's general counsel.

As founder and head of the Augusta Female Seminary for its first seven years, Dr. Bailey gave it a character and stability that were largely responsible for its survival in the difficult years that followed. The Administration Building, around which the college has grown in architectural style, is a monument to his efforts. The high standards of instruction he established and maintained attracted the support and respect of the community. Moreover, it was in his school and under his teaching that the second founder, Mary Julia Baldwin, was educated.

Dr. Bailey left Staunton in 1849 to become the Virginia agent of the American Colonization Society whose primary object was to remove free Negroes to the Republic of Liberia which had been established as a national home for them. Later he became president of Austin College, served as moderator of the Synod of Texas, and had the distinction of being a member of the first General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. and signing the document drawn up by this body to justify its separation from the Northern Presbyterians.

In recent years the college has been collecting memorabilia and writings of Dr. Bailey, of which the trunk is a prize example. Also reproduced on this page is a rare original photograph of Dr. Bailey. It was a gift to Mary Baldwin on its 100th anniversary from Leslie Lyle Campbell, a nephew of the aforementioned John Lyle Campbell, but no blood relative of the Bailey family.

At the bottom of this page is another monument to Rufus W. Bailey, entirely familiar to students since 1956, the year of its dedication as Bailey Hall. Prior to its conversion to a student residence, this structure was the King's Daughters' Hospital of Staunton.

Vol. XXXIX Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Virginia, May 1964 No. 20

The year is 1924. Nellie Taylor Ross and Miriam (Ma) Ferguson are the first women honored as governors of Wyoming and Texas, respectively.

Women are speaking out on public affairs; outside the home they have a contribution to make to the world.

Mary Baldwin girls are a part of the national feminist movement. They need a voice for their opinions.

They launch their newspaper, CAMPUS COMMENTS.

Published fortnightly at first, the magne-size, four-page Campus Comments lected "public opinion on the campus" d gave the students a share in moulding . There was no circulation outside of ry Baldwin. The articles were short and sipy. The administration looked some- at askance at the new enterprise, as evi- ced by Miss Marianna P. Higgins' re- to the Board of Trustees: "Campus nments calls attention to the eccentrici- of all of us living on the campus."

n 1928 President Coolidge visited unton, leaving students with the mem- of his high silk hat chronicled in Cam- s Comments, along with the official an- ncement of the demise of the Seminary sion.

In 1929, the stock market crash and the ginning of Mary Baldwin's student gov- nt association came in the same week. Now a larger, weekly publication, Campus Comments compared the student government charter to the signing of the Constitution of 1787 and emphasized the responsibility attending new rights and privileges.

The depression years saw the last of the uniform hats. Rather than raise the ten cents per copy price, CC earned its expenses through waffle suppers and breakfasts. Advertisements in the newspaper for the first time in 1929 gave a yearly operating budget of $515.

A specific room for day students and the opening of the college bookstore came as the serious-minded, conventional girls of 1930 said "farewell to the flapper" in a spring editorial.

Other CC editorials urged support for the faltering student government system and brought the "Mail Call" tradition under intense scrutiny. A letter to the editor said: "As a class in organized society, college girls, our dignity suffers to have the mail delivered in such an informal fashion." A campus mail room was opened the following year.

With CC providing the laboratory for practical instruction, courses in journalism began in 1931 under Dr. Mary Swan Carroll.

At this stage a bi-monthly, CC reacted violently to the criticism of European students concerning the lack of "awareness of American students to national responsibilities." Student discussion denied this and CC asked the question in a November, 1931, editorial: "Will thinking students have any small part in helping toward the solution of the crises that are racking the world today?"—namely, the Chino-Japanese crisis and the approaching League of Nations disarmament conference.

Open Forums were held and requests for such liberties as three breakfast cuts for all students and optional attendance at Sunday School drew editorial comment.

Roosevelt and Lindbergh, whose son was kidnapped that year, were chosen the greatest living Americans in a CC survey in 1932. Woodrow Wilson and "Abe" Lincoln were the "most prominent dead Americans" according to the student poll, and Gandhi, Einstein and Mussolini were the "outstanding living foreigners."

A straw vote sponsored by CC in 1932 gave Roosevelt twice the votes of Hoover for president. Norman Thomas got five votes. Editorial comment said "The number of votes cast for the latter (Thomas) was one of the surprises of the poll. It was rather expected there would be more Socialists in the college. The outcome was in a way a surprise for, although the college is a Southern one, there is a larger number of Northern girls than Southern girls in the enrollment."

The Contemporary Thought class attended Roosevelt's inauguration which CC followed by an editorial on Mrs. Roosevelt. As the first "First Lady" to go horse-back riding and use commercial air transportation, she showed "a fine disregard for the trivialities of conventions which could make her more of an automaton than a vital, personable woman who enjoys life."

Who's Who Among Alumnae recognized by CC in this era included Rosa Witz Hull, wife of Secretary of State Cordell Hull; Roselle Mercier Montgomery, first prize winner of the Poetry Society of America in 1923; Anna Jarvis, the founder of Mother's Day; and Lucille Foster McMillan, whom President Roosevelt appointed to the Civil Service Commission.

In 1933, as Hitler became chancellor in Germany and prohibition ended in the United States, Mary Baldwin received her first foreign students, one from France and one from Germany. The two girls used CC as their medium for discussion of foreign politics, and the publication gave much larger space to national and international news and editorial comment on such news. Enlarged to regular newspaper size and including more pictures, CC's primary function remained, however, to record college news and express student opinion on college affairs.

Ten years of hard work paid off as CC tied with the Virginia Polytechnic Institute Techgram for the first honor award at the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association conference in October.

A 1935 CC poll ranked Washington and Lee University men "more dateable" with University of Virginia gentlemen running a close second. And with students like Margaret Hunt, queen of the 1935 East Texas Rose Festival, who could doubt the popularity of Mary Baldwin girls? Accordingly, dating privileges were enlarged.

Roosevelt over Landon in '36, and over Willkie in '40, expressed student presidential preferences in straw polls. CC condemned a Youth Congress in Washington for its un-American action in 1940. Dr. Walter Judd came to Mary Baldwin and told students to take a good look at him because they probably had not seen a Republican in a long time. He was on campus to ask aid for Chinese students. Mary Baldwin newspaper and student campaigns answered the call but CC later recorded that "the Chinese relief furor is dying out."

Seven months prior to the Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor, Franklin D. Roosevelt dedicated the Manse on the corner of Frederick and Coalter Streets, the birthplace of Woodrow Wilson, as a national shrine.

Then, Mary Baldwin's first 100 years came to an end.

With the beginning of her second century, Mary Baldwin, as everyone, faced wartime privations. The William Watt King Building was constructed and the Honorable James H. Price, Governor of Virginia, came for the dedication. CC editorialized on the newest building since McClung Dormitory (1910) as a "lasting memorial to the faithful services of a man dearly loved by thousands of Mary Baldwin girls."

Founders' Day of 1942 was dominated by tradition, but on the same day tradition was abandoned and the first dance with gentlemen was held.

Even with the new dean, Miss Katherine Sherrill, on campus as a fresh news source, CC dealt long and hard on the problems and events of the war.

It So Happens, the national and inter

"Campus Comments" is a household word for Hugh P. Schmid who inherited the weekly printing job from his father some 30 years ago. In fact, he nearly missed the Class Day of his bride, Mary Frances Dudley '40, because it was press time for "Campus Comments." With characteristic patience and helpfulness, he discusses a publication here with Editor Fran Sanders, '64, left, and makeup editor, Hope Rothert, '66.

ional events column of the '40's carried the ews that the Russians were fighting to lose the Nazi wedge on Stalingrad and hat Winston Churchill had warned Eng- nd of inflated hopes for a second front. The column chronicled popular American ovelties, such as the meat rationing pro- ram, "stand-sits" on the public convey- nces in Washington, and a cafe in San rancisco that gave back 10 per cent of he check to those who ate everything on heir plates.

CC announcements of alumnae joining he Waves and Wacs were of little surprise. tudents had monthly blackouts. The Roosevelt generation" heard war corre- pondent William Henry Chamberlain redict: "In the case of a United Nations' ictory in this war, we must expect Russia o play a great part in the future of the vorld."

CC emphasized the "Salvage Committee" hich collected leftover butter and grease or manufacturing explosives and bits of oap for glycerine to manufacture war roducts.

Lack of transportation prevented the an- ual picnic to Massanetta so students and aculty walked to a college orchard for the ay—the first Apple Day!

As a Brooklyn Dodgers slanted newspa- er, CC predicted that the 1942 World eries would be played between the Dodg- ers and the Yankees, and it was, but the Yankees won.

MBC's Victory Corps stimulated the buying of defense stamps. But in all the seriousness of a world war, CC was ever a student-centered paper with such com- ments as: "Well, Izzy, where is the ring?" and "Smitty, what's cooking in Cambridge? Sounds pretty slick, we figure." (Quotes from the gossip column Between the Dogs begun in the '40's.) Coverage was given to marriages of alumnae in the Red Room and Rose Terrace garden.

Following Great Britain's recognition of Communist China and President Truman's authorization of the hydrogen bomb, Mary Baldwin in 1952 had a Mock Republican convention in which Eisenhower won over Taft. A later CC sponsored "straw" cam- paign elected Eisenhower two to one over Adlai Stevenson.

Mount Everest was conquered in the '50's. Likewise, a plan was laid out to de- velop Mary Baldwin's hillside. The inaug- uration of Samuel R. Spencer, Jr., as fifth president set the ground for an academic program, "New Directions in the Liberal Arts." CC led the proposal for recognition of Dr. Spencer's achievements by winning approval of the Board of Trustees to name the dormitory opened in 1963 the Samuel Reid Spencer Residence Hall.

Operating today on a budget of $4,500 a year, Campus Comments is a well-en- trenched habit in the college community. In its 40 years it has been recognized by the Associated Collegiate Press with seven All American, 11 First Class, and four Second Class Honor Ratings.

GOP party was chosen because it is generally conceded that nomination of the "outs" provides more competition and excitement.

Excitement was the word. After more than nine hours of strenuous politicking and speech-making the girls took two ballots shortly before midnight and voted first place on the presidential ticket to Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller. Then they selected Senator Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky for the No. 2 spot.

The choice of Rockefeller came as something of a surprise to the political soothsayers who had given Senator Barry Goldwater a 4 to 1 edge in the pre-convention poll.

There was obviously some fast talking between the first and second ballots. On the first, Goldwater led the field of 10 candidates with 119 votes. Rockefeller ran 5th on this ballot with only 63.

Goldwater polled 173 votes on the second ballot. His backers had a solid block of Southern votes lined up, but the New York delegation won them over. "We were able to convince them that Goldwater would not be a good candidate against President Johnson," said the New York chairman.

On the second ballot Rockefeller polled 273 votes but a swift recount, with Southern delegations switching their votes, put him safely on the top spot. According to convention rules, 275 votes were needed to win the nomination.

Throughout the long afternoon and evening session (and for months in advance) the convention was in the hands of Carolyn T. Smith, '64, a real-life Democrat from Beckley, W. Va., who plans to enter law school next September. As permanent chairman, she drew plaudits from the corps of newsmen covering the convention, not only because she wore blue nicely but because she definitely was polished in politics. "Mr. Sam in Blue" was one of her epithets. "Leather-lunged," another; "Ramrodder," another.

Horace E. Henderson, Virginia Republican chairman, sat in on all the proceedings and gave a bald-fist keynote speech in which he concentrated his main fire on President Johnson. "The GOP can win in '64," he said, "if we will nominate a candidate who can draw Lyndon Johnson out of the middle of the road and put him over into left field where he belongs." When Pennsylvania put Governor Scranton's name in nomination real political gimmickery came on the floor in the form of an Arkansas razorback hog, rented for the occasion and named "Wee-Willie" for Scranton. For more hoopla, the Texans wore levis, jeans and 10-gallon hats. The girls from Illinois, land of Lincoln, wore stove-pipe hats. The girls from Mississippi wore goatees and cut-away coats.

The girls spent an afternoon hammering out the platform which brought lengthy debate between the Northern and Southern wings of the party, especially over civil rights and a Confederate flag carried by the Alabama delegation. A proposal that the flag be removed from the convention hall was overwhelmingly defeated. An attempt to endorse a change in the Senate filibuster rules was also sounded defeated.

In retrospect, Dr. Alan Geyer, associate professor of political science and one of the advisors to the mock convention, said the 1964 event richly furnished Mary Baldwin students with the "raw materials of politics."

"The mock convention," he said, "is designed to emphasize a basic premise of the American political arena: it is an open struggle for power among contending parties. We believe firmly that a two-party system is one of the essential elements of American government. That is to say, this country's governmental strength derives from the fact that we have a participative political system in which all mature citizens are both free and obliged to consider themselves as politicians. This participative feature of our system cannot be apprehended by "outsiders," it requires an active encounter with the raw materials of the party struggle. Among these raw materials of politics are the competition for position and influence, controversy over public issues, compromise in making decisions. We had all of these."

Of course, there are other laboratory experiences in the art of government for Mary Baldwin students. Among these have been a mock United Nations Security Council, mock national elections, field experience in community studies and party campaigns, and summer student internship — in-government seminars.

Shakespeare's Week End

Mary Baldwin, like the rest of the English speaking world, took notice of the 400th anniversary of the birth of William Shakespeare, the poetic genius who left that large, colorful and unforgettable legacy of people who never existed—yet are known to all of us.

Our celebration was a part of the world's recurring mystical urge to know Shakespeare, to draw close to him by studying his characters, to see him against the background of his time.

Dr. Roland M. Frye, research professor of the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington, lectured on the range of Shakespeare's characterizations, "a laboratory of humanity . . . in which we may study mankind as it is, with all its infinite variety and mystery . . . where life stands still so that we may again and again repeat the experiment of study."

Preliminary to the week end, with props such as fishnet and spangles and carbonated grape juice, the Mirror Room was transformed into a "Mermaid Tavern." The Bard himself (alias Dr. Alan Geyer) appeared to ask, "What is this rowdiness here?"

Some 700 persons of the college and community saw the two performances of "The Tempest," Shakespeare's last play, on March 13 and 14.

Costumes were designed and made by students from paintings and drawings of the period. Melodies of some of the songs were newly set for the production by Dr. Fletcher Collins, Jr., professor of dramatic arts. Accompaniments for the harpsichord were created by Gordon Page, professor of music.

Sketches of lavish scenery styles of the period provided the inspiration for the plywood sets made by the play production class under the direction of Dr. Ulysse Desportes, associate professor of art. A machine to make the waves roll realistically on stage was made by Dr. Collins from a two-dimensional sketch found in a 1638 book on scenery construction.

These our actors,

As I foretold you, were all spirits and
Are melted into air, into thin air:
And, like the baseless fabric of this vision,
Thee cloud-capp'd towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples, the great globe itself,
Yea, all which it inherit, shall dissolve
And, like this insubstantial pageant faded,
Leave not a rack behind. We are such stuff
As dreams are made on, and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep.

Best Sportsmen of the Year
Nancy Falkenberg, 1963 and Mary Jane Metcalf Donnalley, 1940

Tennis instruction on the Skyline Courts

Up at the Philadelphia Cricket Club where the National Junior Girls' Championships are played, there's a handsome silver tray on which each year is engraved the name of the best "sportsman" on the courts.

Fifth on that list of 28 is Mary Jane Metcalf, in those days (1940) a hard-serving senior at the Kent School for Girls in Denver and the first junior tennis player ever to represent Colorado in national competition. Her doubles partner that year was another talented teenager named Gertrude (Gorgeous Gussie of Lace Pants fame) Moran. They went to the quarter finals.

Twenty-eighth on the list is Nancy Falkenberg, a lanky and just as hard-serving 17-year old from Fort Walton Beach, Florida.

Both holders of these Sportsmanship awards are on the Mary Baldwin campus today—Mary Jane as a tennis pro and head of the department of physical education and Nancy as a star among freshmen tennis pupils.

Mary Jane, now the wife of Kenneth G. Donnalley and mother of two strapping teen-aged sons, joined the Mary Baldwin faculty in 1959 and took over the development of the college's tennis program. (In the total physical education program individual sports are emphasized because of their carry-over value to the student after college.) The next Spring—1960—saw the completion of a battery of five all-weather tennis courts atop Market Street hill commanding a beautiful view of the city and much of the Valley surrounding.

Mary Baldwin's tennis courts, appropriately dubbed "Skyline Courts" by Mrs. Donnalley, for the fourth consecutive time, May 7-9, were the scene of the Middle Atlantic Collegiate Women's Tennis Championships. This is a regional qualifying tournament for the national collegiate championships, to be held this year in Greensboro, N. C.

Nancy, fourth-seeded and playing for her first time in a MALTA tournament, came out the champion over the finest tennis players of 12 Southern and Eastern colleges.

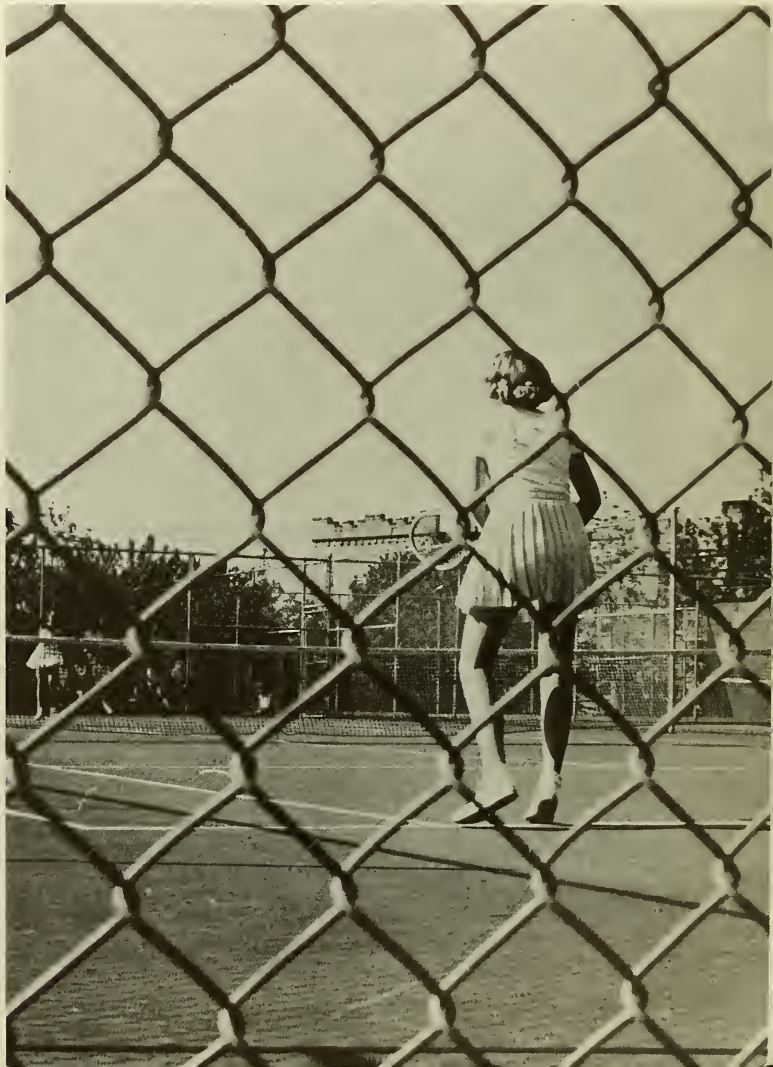
Defender of the women's singles MALTA collegiate title was Mary Baldwin's Cynthia Goeltz, a sophomore from Bethesda, Md. From her victories on the Skyline Courts last year she went on to St. Louis in the summer and reached the quarter final round of the National Collegiate Championships. She also made a very creditable showing in the National Grass Court Women's Championships at Forest Hills, Long Island, and captured the Greater Washington Women's Singles title last summer. In women's singles, Cindy currently holds the No. 3 rank.

Playing as a team, Cindy and Nancy won the 1964 MALTA doubles title also for Mary Baldwin by defeating the Duke team.

Last summer when Nancy played at the Philadelphia Cricket Club, she teamed up with Julia Heldman, of New York City, the current junior champion. Her sportsmanship award (as well as for Mrs. Donnalley and all the winners since 1936) was for her "representation of the ideal of good sportsmanship, appearance, court manners and tactics."

Two other Mary Baldwin stars have national rank and reputation. Pat Kenehan, a freshman from Washington, is No. 1 junior player in the Middle Atlantic region and Sandra Zeese, a sophomore from Huntington, Long Island, is a former member of the Eastern Junior Wightman Cup team.

Mrs. Donnalley, herself the holder of some 60 tennis trophies representing city, state and regional titles, is recognized as one of the nation's top tennis authorities and teachers. She is the author of "Net Results" (1961), a how-to book on playing tennis and improving one's game. She is a member of the National Tennis Examination Committee for the Division of Girls' and Women's Sports of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.



CLASS NOTES

BEFORE '00

How wonderful to have notes and gifts from our Mary Baldwin "girls" of the '80s and '90s. Coincidentally, two contemporaries write from Little Rock in support of Annual Giving: Jennie Peck Williams '87 says she wants "to help out percentagewise," and Emma Beebe Faust '90, now 91 years old, remembers her Augusta Female Seminary days from 1885-1890.

From Phillipi, W. Va. Annie Bosworth Williams '88 reports that she's 94 and says, "I live by myself and am grateful that I can. My son and daughter-in-law are just across the street and I have two grandchildren doing well and a little great-granddaughter" What a remarkable grandmother they have!

We are grateful for Amanda Pipes Davis '98, who sends greetings from Hammond, La. and wishes us success in our efforts for "this fine cause," Annual Giving.

We take great pride in our Seminary girls and love hearing from you. Let's hope that these notes will inspire more of you to write.

'00

A delightfully newsy note from Alma Belle Wren Evans of Richmond, Va., who for 40 years has lived in the same house, descriptively named "Blue Shingles." Her father was born and raised in Staunton and was a cousin of Miss Baldwin. Mrs. Evans' three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren must enjoy her keen sense of humor. In recalling her memory of the Seminary days she said, "It was just like a prison and I was sick most of the time—homesick!"

'02

Blanche Harvey Bear writes that she is now 81 and regrets that her health will not allow her to attend meetings.

Louise Gilbert Harris has six granddaughters, three of whom are married, while another is a freshman at S.M.U. and one is a 10-year-old at home with her family in Midland, Texas. How about that sixth one, Mrs. Harris? Her two great-grandsons, aged 4 months and 10 years, complete her family.

Bess Walcott Jones of Dallas was 80 in November and astounds us with her many activities. Her memberships include the Dallas Shakespeare Club, Garden Club of America and several local garden clubs, St. Matthew's Episcopal Cathedral, D.A.R., and other cultural libraries and museums. Her two children, who are married, must be very proud of her!

Louise P. Mealey in far off Wayzata, Minn., wishes that she "might take off on a star" and drop in on the campus sometime, for her days at MBS are recalled with much pleasure. We share that wish with you, Miss Mealey.

'03

Hannah Brubaker McDonnell has a grandson studying at the American College in Belgium. Her granddaughter is married to a Captain in the Navy and has two sons of her own, which makes Hannah a proud great-grandmother.

'04

Mamie Gillis Grier's daughter has two daughters, one a high school junior and the other one married and the mother of Mrs. Grier's three-month-old great-granddaughter.

We are happy to hear that Beryl Hutton Shaffer is improving following an illness and is living with her daughter in Cheswick, Pa.

Ellen Selden Smith, a retired teacher, shares a cozy four-room apartment and her interests in the Episcopal Church, bridge, and the Kanawha Valley Chapter N.S.D.A.R. with her widowed sister in Charleston, W. Va.

Son of MARY WEISIGER White '06 and his family

'05

Susie McElroy Crook divides her time between her home in Spartanburg, S. C. and Montreat, N. C. Her only daughter and her husband live in Wilmington, Del., and have a son who's a sophomore at Lehigh. Mrs. Crook's son was killed off Mindenao after being a prisoner of the Japanese for three years.

'06

From St. Louis comes a picture of Mary Weisiger White's son and his family. He is a graduate of Choate and Amherst.

Mary Briggs Garnett in Hopkinsville, Ky., is learning all about trucks and tractors from her 3-year-old grandson!

Agnes West Burnet of Charlottesville is slowly recovering from a stroke she suffered more than two years ago. While she was still in the hospital her husband died following a long illness. Typical of the marvelous spirit of so many of our "girls," she remembers "49 years of unusual happiness."

Lucy Bagley Thornton writing from Atlanta, remembers her Mary Baldwin friends as "some of the blessings of my life" and shares with us our grief in the loss of Margaret Cunningham Woodson.

Emmitsburg, Md., should boast of such a citizen as Virgie Lee Crosby Ogle. She describes herself as "just a lone, busy senior citizen with Christian faith and hope." Happily, she remembers her early touch with Mary Baldwin with eternal gratitude.

The two children of Blanche Collier Kinnebrew have provided her with seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren!

Helena Lankford Jones has five fine sons and, though she's an invalid with arthritis, she should have the best of medical care. One son is an orthopedic surgeon in Lynchburg and another is a heart specialist in Alexandria, Va.

Late October was the date for Anna Marie Apgar Murray to celebrate her 50th wedding anniversary. Congratulations!

What a joy are all the grandchildren! Claudia Collier Montague has three in school and one in college, while Louise Priddie Donoven has one each at Radcliffe, Brown, and Georgetown, and the "other ten in nursery, grammar and high school!"

'09

Carrie Bowie Clagett lives in Mitchellville, Md., with her two bachelor sons, while Susan Philips Butt is with her son and his family in McLean, Va.

Thalia Gillett is still active in the National Society of Arts and Letters and the community concerts, though she retired in 1959 after having taught music in the El Paso schools for many years.

And Evangeline Palmer Trice of Richmond boasts of "seven wonderful grandchildren!"

'10

It's always wonderful to have news of alumnae with whom we haven't been in touch for so long, and such is the case with Florence Rebecca Stinson Jordan. Her husband (who was at S. M. A. when she was at Mary Baldwin) is retired and they live in Holmes Beach, Fla.

Elizabeth Stribling Jones says, "I enjoyed seeing Spencer Hall so much when I visited my granddaughter, Page Jones '66, in the early fall. She is so happy at MBC."

'11

From Seoul, Korea where her husband is with the State Department, Janet Farrar Hill raves about the beauty and the climate of that far-off country. Except for the summer months of '63 when they returned to the States, they have been there since 1959 and look forward to two more years.

Virginia Dudley lives on a farm near Hightown, Va. with her brother and his wife.

Word from two Californians: A doctor, Marian Lockwood Moore is a retired medical missionary living in Pasadena, while Anna Belle Wyse Stroud expresses her pride in her nephew, Spencer Osborn Moore, Jr. who passed his bar exams last summer and is now serving as assistant deputy attorney for the city of Burbank.

Florida Booth Smith's two daughters, MBC alumnae of '51 and '53, are both married. One lives in Salt Lake City and the other in Milwaukee, both quite a distance from Mrs. Smith in San Antonio.

Minna Beasley Potts' three daughters, one of whom lives in Lima, Peru, have made her the proud grandmother of nine!

'12

We were so sorry to learn that Florence Miller Wilson is confined to her bed with arthritis in a San Antonio rest home.

A busy Springfield, Ill. piano teacher is Minnie Mansfield White, while Sarah James Bell Wysor tells of an exciting visit with one of her daughters in southern Germany. Both of Mrs. Wysor's daughters are MBC alumnae, and the other one lives in Kinston, N. C.

'13

Georgia Hull Herbert admits that their four children and sixteen grandchildren keep her and her husband occupied. Can you think of a more satisfying occupation?

Molly Worthington Hume spent a lovely nine weeks (April to July) in Europe travelling with Clare Adams Turner '14.

Three of the Class of '14 have recently seen the campus. Annah Ruckman McCorkle visited her granddaughter, Karen Cowsert, an honor scholar and sophomore who "loves" MBC. Also, Lucie Bull Priest accompanied Pauline Anderson Cumming and her daughter and granddaughter for a visit to Staunton last fall.

Enjoying retirement are Harriet Marvel Wilson, after 34 years of teaching in a boys' school in Providence, R. I., and Dorothy Davis Vincent, who has been carrying on her husband's real estate business since his death eight years ago. Looking forward to joining their ranks and enjoying her grandnieces and nephews (grandchildren of her sister, Dorothy Deatherage Stanley '13), Sally Deatherage will retire soon after 25 years as librarian in a Kansas City high school.

We were grateful to Virginia Lee Smith Herold for a copy of her book, GRANDPARENTS TO REMEMBER, to add to the College library.

Don't forget, Class of 1914, that your 50th reunion will be celebrated at Mary Baldwin on June 5 and 6!

'15

Elizabeth Hodge Risser had a lovely visit in the fall with her daughter and her husband on the West Coast. She visited in Arizona on her way back East.

Mary Preston Thompson is already looking forward to her 50th class reunion in '65! She has twelve grandchildren, nine boys and three girls, two of them attending the University of Arizona.

It was mentioned in a fall issue of the AAUW JOURNAL that Dorothy Crawford Rogers had held a showing of her paintings. She is a member of the San Francisco Art Association and has received awards in many juried shows.

Frances Julian Hine spent last winter in Spain and says one of her "chief delights" was meeting Miss Dorothy Mulberry who directs Mary Baldwin's Academic Year in Madrid.

Lucie Woodward Yewell is now living in Los Angeles where her husband is manager of the Data Processing Center for the Veteran's Administration. Her son is in his fifth year in Nicaragua as an Archdeacon of the Episcopal Church.

The new Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel will soon put the Eastern Shore of Virginia "on the map," says Jewel Mears Upshur, Eastville, Va.

Widowed for over 13 years, Mary Smith Carson lives in the country near Roanoke, Va. Her daughter has a home on the same 45 acres.

What wonderful sentiments are expressed by Mary Lindsay Galliford who writes, "Each year is more wonderful than the last—more rewarding, more delightful."

'17

For 17 years Fan Lee Williams and her sister-in-law have owned an antique shop in Irvington, Va., open six months of the year. Stop and shop if you are passing by this summer!

'19

Virginia Silver Goode writes from Winchester, Va. that her health has not been too good recently. All of us hope for a real improvement in the near future.

Mary Louise Whitacre Murray and her sister, who attended Mary Baldwin Seminary together, now both live in Detroit. Mary Louise's husband is a lawyer and her sister's husband is an engineer there.

Five little granddaughters, ranging from 2 to 10 years, are Rachel Griggs Westerbrook's special joy. She hopes that their thoughts will turn toward Mary Baldwin when the time comes for college.

'21

Catharine Wahlstrom Brown and her husband spent seven "glorious" weeks in Hawaii this past fall and especially enjoyed the skin-diving.

The Class of '21 can total up an amazing number of grandchildren! The following news tells of only a few . . .

Kathleen Newby McGee is lucky to have all eight of her grandchildren right in the same town with her, Spartanburg, S.C. Marguerite Smith Liddell can count an even dozen! She is hoping that the oldest, now a junior in high school, will come to Mary Baldwin. Five grandchildren is the number for Helen Tinney Manchester. Two of her own children are still in college, one at Lafayette and one taking post graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania.

The nine grandchildren of Em Craig Childs are all under 12 years of age, yet the oldest of Louisa Venable Kyle's grandchildren is a freshman at Hampden-Sydney College. Louisa can boast of eight in all, and besides the duties of a grandmother, she keeps busy as a free lance writer, gardener and lecturer!

The children of Dorothy Gage Wilkin are Mike, a senior at Dartmouth, and Molly who is at Kansas University.

Alphonsine Stewart Worthington and her husband went on a trip to the Middle East in September and stopped in Berlin on the way home to visit their son stationed there in the Army. At home in Roswell, N.M. she enjoys babysitting with her grandchildren.

An interesting note from Margaret VanDevanter Fancher gives the following news quoted here:

"Last year my husband and I had a most rewarding experience when we visited some of our Presbyterian Mission stations in the Orient. Also visited Hong Kong, India, Iran, Jordan, Israel and Greece. I'm still on the Board of Christian Education (Presbyterian Church) and am reading manuscripts which will be a part of our new Covenant Life curriculum. Presbyterians have a treat in store, as this curriculum is exceptionally fine."

'23

Aitie Bruce McDonald Foan says, "I visited Mary Baldwin early in June and, as it was my first trip back since I left, I was overwhelmed with all the changes. It is even lovelier than I remembered it and I was filled with pride and love for it. Of course, I missed the Covered Way and Chapel and Sky High, but my old room in Memorial was just the same, as was Hill Top."

Another who fondly remembers Hill Top is Mary Renfroe Rogers who attended Mary Baldwin with her twin sister, Martha Renfroe. Mary works as a staff writer in the woman's department of a Florida newspaper.

Other happy words about the College come from Gladys Parker Silling who has lived in Staunton for 38 years. She says, "It is a real inspiration to see the tremendous progress that MBC has exemplified in many ways through the years."

Geraldine Noell Lancaster and Marguerite Edgar McClung have both recently welcomed new granddaughters.

'24

Edwynne Hereford spent a recent vacation in New York City especially to attend the theatre.

Mary Bowen Sadler is the proud grandmother of two little boys, ages 8 and 6.

The 40th reunion of the class will take place June 5 and 6 and Ruth Mowery Evans is looking forward to being at Mary Baldwin for the occasion. Retta Coney Jelks is planning to attend, too, and Elsie Jones Simpson is hoping to come. Make your own plans now to be here!

Magdalene Roller Teufel is an associate professor in the School of Home Economics at the University of Delaware. Her daughter, Fonda Teufel Fry '51, is married to a college professor and has three children and her other daughter is married to an executive of IBM and has four children.

Another Class of '25 teacher is Louise Bowen Morris who has the third grade in a Martinsville, Va. elementary school. Her summer trips have included a variety of fascinating places—last year it was the Pacific Northwest and Canada.

Still enjoying teaching piano is Anne Alvis Brodie. She is a grandmother five times over.

Also boasting of five grandchildren is Marguerite Hancock Gimbert. She is president of the Tidewater, Va. alumnae chapter and says it's "a great joy to work with the Mary Baldwin girls, new and old."

'26

Lucy Denton Claxton has a new grandson. Nell Gwyn Brame says there's nothing new with her, just "three children . . . two grandchildren . . . one good old husband."

Elizabeth Roberts Brittain's daughter is married to a lawyer in Winchester, Va. and her son is a resident in internal medicine at Emory University Hospital, Atlanta.

An October trip took Hallie Mae Latta Waterfield to the Orient with stops in Hawaii, Japan, Singapore, Hong Kong and Bangkok. She says, "I had hoped to take a side trip to Formosa to try to find Nettie Junkin '27, but that didn't develop."

Since Virginia Wood Carroll's marriage she has been living in Miami, Fla. and says it's "delightful!"

Roberta Kendrick Spalding is working hard —as Commissioner of Revenue of Rappahannock County in Washington, Va. Bertha Goodman Duncan's volunteer work keeps her busy for she is president of the Women of Trinity Episcopal Church in Pine Bluff, Ark.

Mary Terrell Peavy is in her second year of teaching after the death of her doctor husband in 1961. She says she loves the work.

Dorothy Bibb Finley's son spent a summer in Vienna while studying German under the "Classrooms Abroad" program.

Quoted from a letter from Martha McDavid Somerville:

"Mary Baldwin is still dear to my heart. I was a member of the last graduating class of the prep school there. I am called a member of the Class of '27, though I was only 16 years old when I left there. Can anyone else beat me on having a 9-year-old girl, a 14-year-old boy, two older step-children and three grandchildren?"

'28

Louise Jackson Stewart participated this summer in the President's Program on Drop-Out Students.

Mary Virginia Leap Durham's daughter graduated from nursing school last June. Mary Virginia also lost her 87-year-old father in July. We all extend our sympathy.

Clara Beery McIlwraith has resigned her librarian job and is getting an M.A. at the University of Richmond. Last summer she had a marvelous trip abroad, even going to Greece and Africa. She visited friends in Germany, Belgium, Paris and London and got back home in time to make her usual trip to Cape Cod. A well-traveled lady!

Our sympathy goes to Ruth Naff who lost her brother in 1963 with whom she made her home. However, she is excited about the "cute little bungalow" to which she has recently moved. Our sympathy also goes to Mary Leola Brown Thomas whose husband died unexpectedly early last summer.

Catharine Crafton Fenne and her husband were planning a Caribbean cruise for January —their fourth!

Ruth McGuire Buck is already thinking of MBC for her daughter, Sally, though she is only 11 years old now.

Caroline Rabenold retired from the Army Nurse Corps in 1960 and in 1962 she was married to Russell Miller. They live in Glenside, Pa.

Carolyn Gochenour England's husband is Superintendent of Schools in Phillipsburg, N.J.

A house built in 1765 on the South Carolina farm of Lena Jones Craig and her husband is being restored by the Spartanburg County Historical Association. She invites us all to come see it when it is finished.

Gladys Huddleston McCurry is looking forward to having four of her five grandchildren for a visit this summer. She made a trip to the campus in 1962 and loved seeing the new buildings and extended grounds.

During 1963 Mary Garland Taylor moved to the largest city in North Brazil and has a young Brazilian girl living with her and aiding her in her work. Mary Garland's message is, "There is a great need for leadership training (in Brazil). Won't some of you come and join us?"

The following is quoted from a letter from Minnie Lee Mahony Ginther who wrote from Houston, Tex.: "My cup runneth over with good things. Our seriously injured (in an automobile wreck) son is fine—only a slight limp. Our six grandchildren (three boys and three girls) are healthy and pretty. Our son, Pat, (youngest) survived Boot Camp at Parris Island and looks grand in the uniform he's proud to wear. Our beautiful daughter is a happy freshman at Trinity University."

Mildred Moore Nixon says she is still delighted with "Florida's glorious citrus country" after three years. She now has five grandchildren. Her youngest daughter, the last of her children still at home, will graduate from high school in June. Mildred and her husband celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary in January.

A busy life in Georgia is the news of Louise Bowen Wilson whose husband is in the pecan and peach business. She says, "Watch out for our 'Magnolia Brand' fresh peaches this summer." The Wilsons are also both quite active in their church.

Jean Lucas Moran is enjoying her part-time job as assistant treasurer of the Episcopal Diocese of New Mexico and Southwest Texas.

Katherine Duff Powell is alumnae president of her other alma mater, St. Mary's Junior College in Raleigh, N. C., and has enjoyed seeing daughters of former Mary Baldwin friends there.

Teaching in elementary school is the profession of Virginia Dickerson Francisco. Rebecca Price is also continuing to teach from her wheelchair at Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena, Calif.

'31

Our sympathy goes to Roberta Cridlin Vergara whose father died in March, 1963. Her mother has been quite ill recently in Jonesville, Va. and Roberta commutes between there and her home in Miami.

Elizabeth Smith Norton writes proudly of her new grandson recently born to her daughter. Her son, Thane, is hoping to receive his master's in mathematics this spring.

Word from Agnes Junkin Peery tells us that she is teaching part-time at Bluefield State College. Her son is at Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va., her daughter is a college junior and the two youngest boys are in high school.

Miriam Hughes Williams now lives in Atlanta after 23 years in Birmingham. Her daughter, Lynn, is a freshman at MBC.

After a visit to the campus with three of her four children, Betsy Ross Beviss commented, "The changes are absolutely amazing!"

'32

ALENE BREWSTER LARNER
(Mrs. Thomas M.)
303 Hemlock Drive
Blacksburg, Virginia

We were all sorry to learn that the son of Rebecca Williams Holoman has been in and out of hospitals ever since he received a serious injury in Germany six years ago. However, he is now working in Washington and was married in September.

Jo Hutcheson Magnifico spoke before the PTA in Kenbridge in November. Mildred Bagley Garden, '30, was her hostess for dinner and the night.

Harriett Seem Neff visited the College recently and was delighted with the progress seen there. She was visiting with Knox Littlepage Clarke and her daughter, Page Clarke Brizzolara, '60. Seemie has also recently seen Hannie (Frances) Baker, '31, and Helen Wilson Ruykhaver, '31. Hannie has an important job with the First National Bank of Minneapolis and was on the board of the Women Banker's Convention which met in Miami.

Polly Strong writes that her mother is still doing fine at the age of 87. Polly's oldest sister, who has now retired, and Polly are planning a Mediterranean cruise next spring.

Elizabeth Brinley Houck can boast of nine grandchildren!

A former German operatic soprano and I gave a joint voice-organ recital at the War Memorial Chapel on the VPI campus in November. Another Blacksburg musician and I are giving a duo-piano recital for the Blacksburg Music Club this month in my studio—so you can see that Mary Baldwin-trained musicians go on forever! My organ and piano students number over 40 at the present time.

'33

JEAN BREHM COTTMAN
(Mrs. William A.)
104 South Road, Lindamere
Wilmington, Delaware 19809

Louise Randol Brooks is living in Huntington, W. Va. Her husband was promoted to assistant special agent for the C. & O. system. Their older son, who earned his degree at Hampden-Sydney, recently completed his military service. Younger son, Randol, graduated from Augusta Military Academy and is now at Bluefield College. This is the first in many years that Louise is not teaching and she says she is enjoying the change. Frances Thomas Baldwin '42 paid her a visit in the fall.

Peg DeMund Banta leads one busy, happy life working with the hospital auxiliary and keeping up with her family. Her husband, Ray, underwent surgery in New York Hospital last May and is doing fine. Peg says it is wonderful to have her son, Jack, and his wife nearby. Jack, who served as an intern last year and is now a resident doctor in New York Hospital, expects to go in the Navy this July. Peg's second son had a wonderful time in England last summer.

Lucy Jo Davis Burnett is president of the Mothers' Club of her son's fraternity at SMU where son Rick is a junior this year. Her daughter, Lucy, who was graduated from Texas University last June, is traveling in Europe with two friends this year and met with Dr. Spencer and the Mary Baldwin group in Madrid.

Bertie Hopkins Thomas is living in the Ozarks where her husband, Ryland, is in the canning business. Besides a son at the University of Arkansas, they have two daughters who are prospective Mary Baldwin girls. Elize Jane graduates from high school this year, and their other daughter is in eighth grade.

Martha Bell Wood has a daughter, Carolyn, in the freshman class at Mary Baldwin this year. Martha was delighted to see the handsome new buildings and a few familiar faces when they took Carolyn to Staunton.

Ruth Edmunds Shepherd has three daughters. Lillian is working on her doctorate in Eastern European history at George Washington University. Ruth is with the American Red Cross in Korea, and Lisa is a senior at Charleston High School.

Charlotte Taylor is still with the North Brazil Presbyterian Mission in turbulent Northeast Brazil. This year she is director of the Bible Institute where they are training Brazilian young people for full-time Christian work. She says it is a thrilling place to be. Charlotte's furlough begins in July of 1965, and I hope many of us can get to see her then.

We alumnae in the Wilmington, Del., area were privileged to have a luncheon meeting in the lovely home of Elizabeth Wilson Steele in the fall. Lib lives in the beautiful Pennsylvania countryside near Kennett Square.

Kitty Shankweiler Heydt's older daughter, Sally Ann Heydt Barna '62, lives in our neighborhood, too. The Barnas have two children.

My term as circle leader in the Woman's Society of the church will soon be finished, but other jobs are coming right up. I expect to be busy with Needlework Guild projects this spring and summer. This should be my last column as class secretary, too, and if some nice person would like to take over, I'm sure our Alumnae Secretary would be pleased to hear from a volunteer. It has been fun hearing from all who have answered my pleas for news, and I appreciated every card and note so much. Have a good summer!

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Elizabeth Balch Sinclaire says she is still trying to make a fortune in Wall Street as a registered representative with Reynolds and Co., Morristown, N.J. Her first grandchild was born to her oldest daughter in 1962. Her youngest daughter, Kitsy, is a sophomore at Mary Baldwin.

Word from Ruth Hopewell tells us she is still teaching in an elementary school in Front Royal, Va. She is planning to come to see the "new" Mary Baldwin soon.

Quoted from a note from Betty Buel Winn: "In 1957 Earl and I started adopting our children. We now have a son, Shannon (age 6), and a daughter, Barbara (age 3), and if you don't think that keeps us hopping (age 51) you are wrong!"

Betty Zollinger Parker says she loves to knit for her granddaughter, play cards and travel when she can. All this is in addition to her volunteer work which includes being a board member for the Visiting Nurse Society. She says "time goes by much too fast."

Marjorie Russell Nash, her husband and daughter visited the College in December. Marjorie's husband is now retired from advertising and public relations and she lists her own occupation as "foreign training officer." Sounds intriguing, Marjorie, and we'd love to know more about it!

Betty Keith Harrison Roberts is involved in numerous volunteer activities in Falls Church, Va. Her husband, an architect and prize-winning amateur photographer, and her son, who enjoys marksmanship and music as hobbies, complete this busy family.

Betty Bowman Duval's daughter is a junior at Stuart Hall this year.

Substitute teaching and painting are two of the activities of Grace Crowe Bobo, outside of keeping home and family going in Mt. Holly, N. J.

Frances Robinson Merry has welcomed a second grandchild, daughter of Fran Merry Simkins '59. (See Births).

A trip to South Africa is in the offing for Martha Gray Lund and her husband. They will visit their daughter and her family now living in Johannesburg.

MARY BELL ARCHER MAPP
(Mrs. John A.)
1924 Octavia Street
New Orleans, La. 70115

The deadline for this Mary Baldwin BULLETIN finds me, like everyone else in New Orleans, busy chasing Mardi Gras parades, dashing for the auditorium to watch the balls, and entertaining out-of-town guests—in addition to nursing a daughter momentarily abed with the flu, which has made a wide sweep in her school. She reported the other morning that she felt too miserable "to even do homework!" What a wonderful attitude second-graders have about school and homework. They all seem to think it is great fun. And Elva is devouring every book in sight, plunging into the "new math" with enthusiasm, and delighted to be learning "script." I don't remember that we went so far so fast!

There has been too short a notice to canvass the class for news. So, I will pass on to you only the news received on Christmas cards—and hope that this year more of you will take time out to write.

There's never a dull moment at the home of Jean Clark Wright in Richmond, Va., with three teen-age daughters. Carolyn is a senior and twins Jeanie and Sarah are freshmen in high school. In the fall of '62 Howard and Jean had a delightful trip to Oregon where he gave a talk at a chemical convention.

Isabella Spillman continues her good work in behalf of the schools of Martinsburg, W. Va. In October she participated in plans for a regional meeting for school attendance directors and assistants, stressing school "dropouts" and "teamwork for school attendance." This is a field in which we are all vitally interested.

Mary Opie Robinson reports that she is still busy writing recommendations for prospective students at MBC and finds the interest rising mightily. (I've been doing my share of writing recommendations, too, and was greatly pleased with the enthusiastic comments of New Orleans' freshmen when I saw them at Christmas!)

Peggy Russell Davis and her husband, Price, visited Mary in Richmond in the fall, en route to see their son, Price Davis III, at Christchurch School. Young Price is the godson of Mary and George Robinson. Peggy is patriotic service chairman for the Colonial Dames of America in the state of Wisconsin and had been to a regional meeting in Louisville. The following week, Richmond Dames were hosts at a similar meeting for their region, and Mary, serving on the public service committee and on the board for Virginia, was a bit apprehensive about the Richmond group's ability to live up to Peg's accounts of Louisville hospitality!

Amine Cosby Kellam pleased me with a lengthy Christmas letter bringing us up to date from the time of a January cruise with the Virginia Chamber of Commerce group on the S.S. STATENDAM to the Caribbean. They came home to welcome her younger brother back to the Eastern Shore to live after 20 years in the Air Force. In May, Amine's first grandchild was born. Son Polk, now 20 years old and 6-feet-2, is in his third year at the University of Virginia. He has consistently been on the Dean's list, was appointed to the Raven Society, and elected captain of the soccer team. Husband Polk is a new bank director on the Eastern Shore and Amine has gone into selling real estate. What a busy family!

Commander Winifred Love is back at the Pentagon and reports she finds it as frightening as ever. She is living in Arlington, Va.

Lois Jane Gardner Boyd's son, John, has joined the Army for two years instead of returning to Hampden-Sydney, as I had thought. The Boyd family in Roanoke, Va. misses him terribly.

Other news will have to wait till next time. We'll hope to hear from more of you then. Best wishes for '64!

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Louise Martin Rohrer spent her last summer's vacation in Europe. This Christmas she was with her daughter Anna Lloyd Rohrer Bach '61, her husband, and two small daughters in Indiana. After Anna Lloyd's husband leaves the Army in August, he expects to return to the University of Oklahoma to finish getting his master's degree in physics.

Virginia House Puckett's daughter, Ginger, is a freshman at Mary Baldwin this year and "loves it!"

JEAN HEBBARD PALMER
(Mrs. Maxfield)
14 Kenneth Road
Upper Montclair, N.J.

Harriet Jayne Smith and her husband, Hal, celebrated their tenth anniversay with a month's trip to Europe last May. They flew everywhere, except one week when they rented a Volkswagon to cross the Alps.

Ora Ehmling Ehmann has become a Red Cross Staff Aide, specifically to serve on urban Bloodmobiles. Last summer she saw Janet Duthie Hoff and Gloria Jones Atkinson '33. Our sympathy goes to Ora who is now recuperating from a broken hip.

Maxwell Wright Ball writes that her daughter, Leslie, is a freshman at the University of Arizona and is pledged to Alpha Delta Pi. The Balls spend their summers in Oak Park, Ill. and their winters in Tucson.

Helen Wade Dantzler says she has only one child still in grammar school and that is Marion, age 9. Ann is now in junior high school, Elizabeth a sophomore at Furman University, and son Keitt is back at Clemson after serving two years in the Navy.

Lucilla White Whitted's husband received his Ph.D. in Romance languages last June from the University of North Carolina. Their son, age 15, is over six feet now and is still growing!

Nancy Wallace Henderson moved to New York this fall and took a job as secretary in an advertising agency. Both her boys are in college and she "wanted to try a little more writing and be closer to the theater scene."

Lucius J. Kellam, chairman of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge and Tunnel Commission, is the husband of Dorothy Douglass Kellam and the father of Douglass Kellam Patterson '59. This project, which will connect the lower tip of Virginia's Eastern Shore with the Hampton Roads-Norfolk area, has been designated as one of the "Seven Engineering Wonders of the World." It has already attracted world-wide attention and opening date is scheduled for mid-April.

Marjorie Abbey Morrison's husband is completing his eleventh term in Congress and Marjorie is with him in Washington. One son is at Washington and Lee and another at Rollins.

Barbara Johnson von Reis will have both of her sons at the University of Michigan next year. Her daughters are ages 15 and 12.

Though she has six children, Helen Craig Meck still finds time for gardening and golf. Her oldest son is now getting his master's in industrial engineering.

Another golfer is Janis Holley Johnston, who mentions square dancing as a hobby, too. Son Bill will graduate from Northwestern University this year and daughter Judy is a college sophomore.

Margaret Childrey Penzold visited her oldest daughter, Peggy Penzold Fooks '61, in Natchez, Miss. for Christmas. Peggy's little son makes Margaret a proud grandmother.

Frances Walker Sanders says she will miss her visits to Mary Baldwin after daughter Fran's graduation this June. She has two sons, also, one at Hampden-Sydney and one in sixth grade.

Meeting daughters of former schoolmates is one of the joys of working at Mary Baldwin declares Alice Gilkeson Simpkins. She is on the library staff. Alice's sons are 17, 13 and 6.

Serving on a national committee for the A.A.U.W. is Josephine Barnett Ritchie whose husband is president of Pacific University.

Betty Chamberlin writes from Little Rock, Ark. that she enjoyed a grand trip abroad this past fall.

Mary Wrenn Cofer Ballard has one daughter in graduate school at Bryn Mawr and another who is a high school senior. Mary Jane McMechen Hubbard is also the mother of two daughters, the oldest 13 and the youngest 7. Mary Jane says her youngest is confined with rheumatoid arthritis and we all hope and pray for her eventual recovery.

'38

Our sympathy goes to Corinne Tomes Sadler who last year lost her mother and her 89-year-old aunt. Corinne has three daughters, one working at the Medical College of Virginia, one studying nursing there, and one a senior in high school.

Lelia Huyett White is planning to bring her daughter, a high school junior, to see the Mary Baldwin campus this spring.

Writing from Houston, Tex., Mary Abbott Velinder says that her son is now 13. Her husband is in the domestic marketing headquarters of the Gulf Oil Co.

Mary Philpotts Hudgins enjoyed seeing two classmates during 1963. Nelda Terrie Swann visited her last summer and Mary lunched in Richmond this fall with Jessie Anne Roudabush Price and her three sons. What fun it was, she said, to talk, talk, talk!

ANNA PERRY CAPERTON EVERHART
(Mrs. Leighton P.)
210 Potomac Rd., Fairfax
Wilmington 3, Del.

With the time drawing near for our 25th reunion we should all be making plans for the big event. Many of you have written that you hope to be there and I hope they are not idle words. From what I hear and read from other classes, this is a wonderful experience, and for those of us who have not had the opportunity to see all the changes, it is a golden opportunity. I sincerely urge all of you to make plans to come back to Mary Baldwin June 5 and 6. It's been such fun hearing from those of you who have written to me, and thank you for taking the time to do so.

Beverly Bivens Olive says "hello" to all her old friends and says she hopes to make the reunion. She has two sons, ages 13 and 15. Mary Boisseau Juer is sure to be there as her daughter, Happy, will be graduating from Mary Baldwin June 7. Margie Lee Phipps Shick reminds us our class has a lot to look forward to in the months ahead if being together for our 25th reunion is as much fun as it was for our 15th.

Emmy Lou Williamson Hamshar writes that she keeps busy raising two girls (ages 10 and 12), helping her husband in his printing business, and doing church work and Girl Scout work.

Our sympathy to Shirley Smith Huffman whose father passed away in October. Shirley has a daughter at UCLA, one graduating from high school this year and two boys, ages 9 and 4. Her oldest son is a pilot and has three children, so she says she is a grandmother long since. Her hobbies are bowling, duplicate bridge, crewel embroidery and "getting fat!"

Mary Ann Davie Martin writes that it has been quite a year for her. She was married last August to Donald Martin and acquired four more grown children and five young grandchildren. She and her fourteen-year-old son had two burglars last April, but luckily only lost some rings and a little cash. She says that she still wakes up a five a. m. wondering who will be in the room.

Sarah Maupin Clements says the past year has been a busy one for her. Her husband's youngest daughter was married in October. Her oldest daughter is a junior at Mary Baldwin and daughter number two is a junior in high school, hoping to go to Mary Baldwin, too.

Kathrine Bretch Binkley lives in Oklahoma City where her husband is a cancer surgeon. She has a married son, Don, who is with the book division of NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC MAGAZINE in Washington, D. C. Another son, Keith, finishes at St. Mark's preparatory school in Massachusetts in June.

Jean Young Moore is busy trying to make good Christian citizens of her two girls and two boys. She says she's sorry she can't report that she has just published a book or returned from Timbuctoo, or some other exciting news!

Sarah Jones Wright has three children ages 5, 9 and 13. She writes that she is kept busy with house work, but finds time to do quite a few other things too. She is president of the Women's Club (a literary club not a federated one), first vice-president of her garden club which involves Garden Week in Virginia chairmanship, and treasurer of her church women's group. She also makes pin money by typing for the college students and professors at Randolph-Macon in Ashland. Quite a busy person!

Betty Gronemeyer Wise's son, Phil, is working in Staunton and planning an August wedding. Her daughter, Nancy, is 16 and Betty reports that each weekend the recreation room is full and they love it! They are still trying to build up the memorial scholarship fund for their daughter, Susie, and she says that anyone wishing to contribute to the college and not having any special place to designate the money can always specify this memorial fund. It counts as Annual Giving.

Frances Perrottet Kresler's daughter, Stacey, is thinking about Mary Baldwin for next year. Her son, Phil, is an eight grader and Ann is in second, with many years of school ahead. Frances has "signed out" at home for the reunion.

Marcia Gooch Johnston's husband is in real estate after 25 years with Viscose and loves his work.

Ann Snavely Simmons writes that there are just two—her hubby and herself. She reports that besides being a housewife, and secretary for her architect husband, they rent property and travel every three weeks from Roanoke to Hershey, Pa. to keep an eye on her father. He is an invalid in a wheelchair who operates a nursing home. For diversion she sings in the First Presbyterian choir and takes organ lessons. Between all this she sews, does a bit of "numeral" oil painting and tries to catch her breath. (I'm out of breath just writing about it.)

Brame Proffit Spessard's oldest son, Rob, is a sophomore at Washington & Lee. Liza is a junior in high school, and John Logan, a late comer, will be three in February. Her husband practices law in Roanoke.

Margaret Armstrong Robertson's second daughter, Margaret Anne, has been accepted under the Early Decision Plan to enter Mary Baldwin in the fall of '64.

Mary White Cook writes that she wishes she could attend the reunion, but that she will be busy getting her daughter, Mary Norfleet, off for a summer in Europe. Mary Norfleet is a junior at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, where she is majoring in art. Her son, Lucius, is a freshman at the University of Arizona and plans to be a doctor. Her youngest daughter, Lucy, is in the eighth grade. Mary says that she had a grand reunion with Margarette Foreman Hargroves when she and her son, Herbert, visited them in Memphis during the Thanksgiving holidays.

John Logan, son of
BRAME PROFFITT Spessard '39

Margarette is working in life insurance and made Women Leaders' Round Table for 1963.

A late flash from Betty Boyd Caskey. She and her husband, Lawson, sailed February 17th on the S.S. LURLINE for Hawaii where she will begin a two-year tour of duty. She is sorry that she will be unable to make our 25th reunion, but is terribly excited about going to Hawaii. Another who will be overseas at reunion-time is Elizabeth Banner Hudgins. She and her husband will be in Europe for a tour and will return home with their daughter, Betty, who has been studying at the Sorbonne this year.

Here's hoping everybody else will be there!

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Jean Leatherman Machemer is a high school librarian and plans to do further graduate work at West Virginia University this summer. Her oldest son is associated with his father in business, and her other son is in college.

From Arizona, Frances Rue Godwin writes that they still love the desert country. Her oldest boy was in Australia at the time, working his way on a ship "to see the world." She says the Godwin family hopes to get to the New York World's Fair this summer.

Margaret Cochran Hinch's daughter is a freshman at Averett College this year.

Anita C. Malugani is listed in the recently published edition of THE DICTIONARY OF INTERNATIONAL BIOGRAPHY. She is planning to be at Mary Baldwin for the reunion.

Elise Casscells Palma says her most exciting news is that her daughter, Lisa, will be coming to MBC in the fall! Her other children are 15, 10 and 9. Elise is teaching and also working on obtaining her master's.

'40

Emma Padgett Fitzhugh tells us that her 17-year-old Anne is looking toward MBC for college, 15-year-old Gina is now driving the car, and 10-year-old Eugene has been immersed in the basketball season. Her husband's pride and joy is his syndicate's new 100-unit apartment building in Williamsburg architecture.

Quoted from a letter from Bettina Hull Sparks: "Both daughters are in college in Colorado. Coincidentally, both see Harry Lou Johnson Gurtler in Denver—think she is 'absolutely terrific'—and love Colorado. They have good taste. Harry Lou is terrific, has a lovely family and beautiful home."

Rachel Hassell Stevens says she has no "new" news, but her family is as busy as ever with their various activities in Raeford, N. C.

Two busy, interesting teenagers keep Alice Jones Thompson involved with their activities. She says it's open house for their friends day and night at their home in Richmond.

Dick Gilbert, husband of Mag Wardlaw Gilbert, is now director of radio and television for the United Presbyterian Church. His office is in New York City, but the Gilberts still live in Princeton, N. J.

What a lovely winter Beatrice Joe Wesley has experienced! January saw her on a Caribbean cruise with her father, and in February she and both her parents took off for a month's cruise of the Mediterranean.

Mildred Clarke Condon's husband, Col. David E. Condon, was tragically killed in a helicopter crash in 1961. After living so many different places as an Army wife, Mildred has now settled in Newport News, Va. with her five children. They are Cary, 17; Linda, 16; David, Jr., 13; Mildred, 5; and James, 3.

Mildred Bradley Coleman and Gordon Norman of Berkeley, Calif. were married last spring. Mildred's two daughters have been joined by two stepsisters.

MARY HENDERSON McCAULEY
(Mrs. Charles P.)
101 Blackburn Court
Versailles, Kentucky

Seems as though I still have the job of class secretary for one more time! I didn't know about it until too late to send out any cards, so most of the news will be from cards and letters that were too late for the fall edition.

Janet Cline Harman wrote that she has been busy struggling with fabrics, wallpaper, tile, etc. for the new home they are building. Bill, Jr. is in the seventh grade and absorbed in football, while Thomas is just a typical three-year-old "ball of fire."

A nice letter from Mimi Kester Thompson told of her new promotion at General Electric in Hendersonville, N. C. She is a statistics and control specialist for the outdoor lighting department. Her husband is a design engineer for aviation and defense with the same company. Their daughter, Diane, is 19 and a sophomore in fashion designing at Winthrop College in South Carolina. Roger, 17, is a senior at Asheville Country Day School and plans on taking electronics in college and going into Air Force R.O.T.C. Mimi said that she had lost contact with Bettina Hull Sparks '40 and would love to hear from her. (See '40 news. Ed.)

Jane Simmons Minick is now living at an air base near Istanbul, Turkey and enjoying it very much. She had seen Phyllis Browne Holbert quite often when they were both at Ft. Meade. Jane's oldest daughter is in school in Washington, D. C., the 16-year-old in high school at an air base in France, and the 11 and 9-year-olds are with her in Turkey. Since they arrived in July, they have had a marvelous time visiting Istanbul and Beruit, Lebanon. They plan to see all of Turkey and maybe Cairo. She still hears from Lillian Street Schutz who is living in San Antonio. Lillian's oldest daughter is married and has a son—another grandmother in the Class of '41!

Phyllis Browne Holbert and family took a trip to Texas last spring and then she spent the summer playing golf, while the children were occupied with their various activities.

Joyce Anne, 18, daughter of Mary Jane Ferrell McCleskey was crowned queen of the 9th Annual Lotus Festival last summer near Virginia Beach. Joyce Anne was a June graduate of Brenau Academy in Gainesville, Ga. Mary Jane's husband is an electrical engineer for the government and also is choir director at Tabernacle Methodist Church.

Carl R. Dortch, husband of Anne Gale Greenland Dortch has been chosen executive vice-president of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce. He is considered a leading expert on local government and governmental finance. They have two sons, Walter, 11 and David, 8. The family has recently moved, and Anne Gale wrote that though the world is certainly changing "our education and preparation at MBC has made us fit to cope with it."

Joyce Albright Greig's daughter, Liza, is a freshman at the University of Florida. She still has three in grade school, so there is hope for a Mary Baldwin daughter. Miss Mims had visited Joyce, and they had a wonderful time reminiscing and going through old annuals.

Nina Sproul Wise told of how much they all had enjoyed Freshman Parent's Day at Mary Baldwin. Especially happy was their high school junior who was able to say with her sister in McClung, where for the first time, his sister's friends had treated her as an equal!

Nothing new to report from the McCauleys. Things seem to go along fairly normal, and I stay pretty busy with work at the hospital and the church.

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

The husband of Mary Slusser Jacobs is a busy attorney in Newport News, Va. Ten-year-old Samuel plays in a youth string orchestra, and Mary's other son is 7. Church, PTA and service club work claim a lot of her time.

Eleanor Maupin Kirschman writes of her busy family, including a 15-year-old daughter and a son aged 10. The whole family enjoys boating and Eleanor keeps up with her tennis, too.

After many years in New York, Anne Adams Van Pelt now lives in Charlotte, N. C. Her boys are 16, 13 and 2½ and their varied ages keep her busy. She sees Hettie Kennedy Fowler '37, Mary Louise Kennedy Berry '40, and Ellen Gray Nicholson Williams '40 fairly often. Last fall in Columbia, S. C. she saw Mary Thompson Molten '41, Bessie Moore Combs '41, and Marie Ulmer Wolfe '41.

MARION ELSDON RYDER
(Mrs. James P.)
Route 2, Box 243 K
Fort Collins, Colo.

The new policy decided at Staunton in June was to have class secretaries serve 2-year terms. In January '64, nobody had been found for this '42 job; so my retirement is postponed until the next BULLETIN. (Speaking figuratively, I feel like a 43-year-old tiger lily that keeps blooming to everyone's surprise.)

It was a Christmas treat to hear from Cleo Shepherd Gaylord who has built a house at Houston.

Ramona Compton Ward is trying to arrange a reunion in the East with Marion Makepeace. Ramona still lives in Hollywood and is getting used to the pace connected with her husband's TV job. Ronald is 17 and was a freshman at Occidental this past year. Youngest boy Carey, 14, spends vacations at Culver Naval School in Indiana. This summer Ramona is taking daughter Pam, 16, overseas to see Paris, England, Spain, Portugal and Scandinavia. To date, Ramona herself has covered Hawaii, the Orient and Europe. Marion has been taking a four-year program at the University of Rhode Island toward a B.S. degree in the College of Nursing. The dean accepted 40 credit units completed at Mary Baldwin 21 years ago . . . bravo, Marion!

Betty Bailey Hall's Rick entered Austin College, Sherman, Tex., after being a National Merit finalist.

September first Sue Haislip Bonham walked down the gangplank of the MATSONIA to Hawaiian soil. Sally is a 3rd grader at Moanalua; Jay is a high school sophomore at Radford. Just before this assignment, J.B. finished his year as chief of staff of the 1st Cavalry Division in Korea.

Carolyn Norton Brushwood is down in Mexico again, this time for half a year. "Cissie" finds Mexico City fascinating, beautiful and cosmopolitan.

Kay Poerschke Kennedy has added a new facet to her life by joining a drama group and performing. Bonnie, 11, attends Scouts, dancing school and rides horses; so Kay drives a lot. Bruce, now 15, went to Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico last summer.

MARION ELSDON Ryder '42

Margaret McDonald White keeps well occupied teaching high school English, music, and tending the house for her family of four.

On the agenda for Cay Cumming Ade is a transfer to the Chicago area. Some ten months ago, Cay visited the campus with her attractive daughter Lindsay, 16. The latter loved MBC and Cay spent a wonderful day looking at the new buildings and having reunions with familiar faculty members.

Janet Werner Harris stopped at our old haunts one rainy August Sunday, 1963. Her route between Houston and Washington also covered Athens, Ga.; so Janet telephoned the Shedds.

From Jackson, Miss., Polly Murphy Keller asks your prayers for all the problems to find Christian solutions. Many of you realize that Polly is a minister's wife. The Kellers have two older girls who will be graduated from Sweet Briar soon.

Unhappy Chinese Year of the Dragon! This is February, the time to mail this column to the alumnae office and there are no snapshots from you to enclose. In fond farewell, here is a picture of yours truly. Please keep in touch with the office or the next class journalist. So many of us enjoy reading about those we don't see for years. May your houses always be safe from tigers. It would be so simple if all the world loved valentines. . . .

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Liza Leman Dunson's daughter, Leigh, is a freshman at Mary Baldwin and her next daughter has said that MBC is her pick, too!

Pearl Epling Forsey has plans to visit her mother in Roanoke, Va. this summer and hopes to get to the campus for a visit.

Virginia Milburn recently retired after many years of teaching in the public schools of Washington, D. C. She last served at the Adams School which was attended by underprivileged children. In a tribute by the school board to her loyal and efficient service, it reads in part: "Miss Milburn is a real teacher. She loves children. She has consistently done far more than one would expect for the underprivileged children. In years to come, children fortunate enough to have come within the sphere of her influence will rise up and call her blessed."

MARY ROSE MITCHENER WILDS
(Mrs. Murphey C.)
418 University Ave.
Oxford, Miss. 38655

Those of us who could not attend our twentieth class reunion enjoyed reading about it in the December BULLETIN. Let's all start getting ready for our "silver anniversary" in 1968. If we start now, surely we'll have our girlish figures back by then.

My term as class secretary had expired, but I was asked to write up the available news for this issue—and it is scarce! Please send in some "stuff" for the next one—even if you do embellish it! Didn't you love that article about writing class notes in the previous BULLETIN? And don't you think that the BULLETIN is better than ever?

We—Murphey, Scott, 12, and Mitch, 8—are still in Oxford, Miss., where Murphey is minister of the Presbyterian church. Both boys are very active in Scouting and it is fun. We're also among the millions who camp every summer and last year went out West.

Minna Potts Thompson and family spent a Sunday with us recently—drove down from Memphis. We had a fine time telling our husbands they are fortunate to have married "intellectual girls" instead of good menders!

Jane Durham Barwick wrote on a Christmas card that her oldest, Milton, is a freshman at the University of Georgia. Billy, 14, is in the ninth grade, and Jane Cook is 9 and in the fourth grade. Jane is already planning to come to the 25th reunion.

Mary Huffman Bock writes that her daughter, Josie, will enter college next year, and "naturally we are strongly considering MBC." As of this writing they were planning a visit to the college. Wouldn't that be fun?

Elaine Tieman is the supervising librarian at the Forrest K. White School in St. Charles, La.

From Dorothy Hundley Neale: "Dot, Susan and Sarah are all three under the same roof this year—first, second and third grade. Their daddy just can't understand it, but they like school."

Sally Wheat Porter is still living in the Philadelphia area. Elizabeth is in the seventh grade and Maryellen is a junior in high school. They all visited Mary Baldwin last year, and according to Sally, "it was as though I had never been away."

Ann Page Francis Hickman writes that this has been a very busy year as she is chairman of the Symphony Ball, and has been working out all the decorations and plans since September. Her daughter, Nancy, and she visited MBC last year.

From Reed Munson Beveridge: "My oldest daughter is a freshman at Mary Baldwin and loves it. Her sister finishes high school in June so there may be two third generation gals at MBC next year. It's good to be back in the fold!"

Gladys Adams Link writes that her little Gratia is named for Gratia Kaynor Deane. She adds, "You must know that Matt and Anne Garrett Tanner adopted a boy (Scott) and immediately turned out one of their own!" (See Births.)

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Mary Lyles Houston was chairman this year of the Metropolitan division of the United Fund drive in San Antonio . . . a big job, but only one of many community activities in which she takes part. "MBC is still in my heart," she says.

Five boys and one girl ranging from 16 down to 5 years are the full-time occupation of Julia Logan Carvin.

Edna Widen Whitworth has four children, two boys, 17 and 14, and two girls, 12 and 10. Besides keeping up with their varied activities, she enjoys hunting with husband Harry.

Marjorie Carter Lacy, husband and two children, Roane, Jr., 17, and Helen, 13, spent the Christmas holidays skiing in Austria. What an optimistic way to look at it, when Marjorie says "only one broken leg—Roane, Jr.!"

'43ers pursuing further education include Ann Ellen Graham Hazzard who is taking conversational French at night school. Frances Knight Weller is working on her master's in elementary education at Hofstra University on Long Island. She plans to teach kindergarten in the fall.

ELIZABETH CHURCHMAN WICK
(Mrs. Merle S.)
40 Inness Place
Manhasset, N. Y.

I'm afraid I have waited too long to write you for news, so this time I'll just pass along a few items that came into the Alumnae Office recently.

Emaline McGrath Graham sent news of her two children, Cindy, 14, and Greg, 12, and claims she's getting happier and healthier every day. Mildred Raycroft Teer's oldest son, Robbie, is now a freshman at East Carolina College in Greenville, S. C. Roy, 16, Pam, 14, Lyda, 8, and Nancy, 7, keep her busy and are all busy themselves at school. Dillard is president of the Kiwanis Club. Mildred saw Betsy Walker Fensel and her family at a convention in Atlantic City.

Nell Dorsey thought the reunion in June was wonderful and enjoyed seeing old friends and the prettier-than-ever campus. Bettie Sue Trimble Mabray hopes that she and her family will have a trip this summer that will include a visit to MBC.

Mary Logan Rogers is the busy mother of five children, and leads, ". . . the usual life of a 1963 matron—with no pay, no regrets and happy I am."

Charlotte Craun Bishop is teaching the fourth grade at Campbell Court Elementary School in Bassett, Va. with a class of 39.

Congratulations to Kit Kivlighan Carter and Sam whose new daughter (second daughter, eighth child) arrived in November. (See Births.)

Margaret Stockley Gregory wrote that the biggest news in her family was the solo airplane flight she had just made. Her husband has held a private license for several years and is working toward an instrument rating, and not wanting to be too ignorant about flying, she's learning all about it. Doesn't that sound exciting?

That's all for this time. Let's hear from lots more of you before the next deadline.

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Polly Ann Mish Bundy is now in Athens, Greece, where her husband, Lt. Col. James A. Bundy, is stationed. They have done a great deal of traveling in Europe, but she says her first view of the Acropolis in Athens topped everything. Her daughter married an Army man in September and they are stationed in Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, where Polly and Jim met 21 years ago.

Nancy Schettler Gordon's husband is at the National War College, but anticipates an overseas assignment in the near future. Their daughters, Laura and Moff, are 12 and 10.

Ann Kivlighan MacLeod recently attended a seminar on education at Dartmouth with her husband. They also managed to take in a little skiing.

Anne Haneke McGough's children are now 16, 13 and 11. They are looking forward to another summer of fun at their three-acre country retreat outside of their town, Lima, Ohio.

"BUTCH" NEISLER TIMBERLAKE
(Mrs. J. W.)
615 East Beverley
Staunton, Virginia

Basic honesty forces me to confess that post-Christmas languor kept me from writing many of you for a February deadline, but thanks to some Christmas cards and some notes provided from your Annual Giving envelopes, our class news is quite respectable.

Such a delightful letter was received from Celia Lacy Whallen last fall right after she and Joe had moved to a suburb of Atlanta. Their daughter, Norah, is in the ninth grade and their son, Howard, has just entered Scouting. Celia, do write again and send a picture—and don't leave out Joe. You know the whole Class of '45 claims him—and do you think he'd mind donning his paratrooper boots just for old time's sake?

Added to the excitement in Marjorie Kincaid Bertok and Lee's new home at Christmastime were the determined efforts of young daughter Rebecca to learn all the Christmas carols. How old is she, Kincaid?

"Paduka" Roberts Wagoner writes from Dayton that she and Jack find it a bit difficult to get away from their brood of six, but they look forward to a trip to Staunton one of these days.

Mary Frances Thompson Wightman has given up her librarian duties at Princeton, but with Woman's Club, P.T.A., church work, etc., she finds she's not the lady of leisure she thought she'd be. Daughter Gail loves her first year of high school and second grader Charles has been taking skating lessons at the University in preparation for a boys' hockey team. Good news to us is that her husband has fully recovered from a spinal operation last spring. They're eagerly awaiting the Mary Baldwin choir's appearance with Princeton March first and "if the performance is of the calibre of last time, it will be of the highest order," says Thompie.

Jane Dossett Brooks is working on scripts for a TV puppet show while serving as Junior League co-chairman for their charity ball. Sarah, her youngest, is a high school sophomore and Alethea is a freshman at Texas University.

I wish we could let Cecile Cage Wavell's daughter, Pam, talk to Alethea, because Pam transferred from Texas to MBC last fall. Cecile says Pam loves everything about MBC and, I might add, we love having her.

What a marvelous time we had last fall with visiting Mary Baldwin buddies. Ann Gard Kinzie finally brought husband Hank for a visit. What a pity he doesn't have a daughter for he sure has a way with the girls! Our 5-year-old Vicki would have gladly deserted us to go home with him.

After about 15 years, we had a long-awaited reunion when Peg Hull Caldwell ('46) and husband, Frank, a handsome Marine Colonel, brought their three adorable youngsters for a week-end. None of them has Peg's beautiful "really red" hair, but daughter Elliott, 16, is a knockout. Cindy and young Frank are just as bright as you'd expect them to be, and we vowed not to wait fifteen years for our next reunion.

Here in Staunton, it's fun to run into Nancy Roane Lathrop. She and Pat have three boys: Moore, Mitch and Spencer, ages 10, 8, and 4 respectively, and Nancy says transportation is the biggest time consumer for her. Pat is a very successful architect and has designed several of the newest schools in this area.

Martha Alexander Hall and Lee's son, Don, graduates from West Point in June and his engagement to a girl from McLean, Va. has just been announced. They'll be married at Ft. Meyer in July. Martha and Lee's daughter, Lynn, is a high school sophomore, and young Beth is 3½. We agree that our pre-school children help prepare us for grandparenthood before our time!

Carol Saulsbury Moore and Draden came down in October to help us celebrate our 18th anniversary and we had a grand trip together. Joining us were Anne Sims Smith and McKelden, Barbara Wrenn Graves '46 and Ben, Polly Baughan Moore '40 and Bill, and Marjorie Moore Council '46 and Jack. Before Draden and Carol headed back to Jersey and their four kids, they almost bought out the Mary Baldwin book store—Mary Baldwin bookends, pens and pencils, a Mary Baldwin College chair and Ham and Jam charms!

Virginia Brading Mack '43, Buzz and their son visited "Simsie" and McKelden Smith last spring while they were on a Virginia college inspection tour.

Darcy Scudder Kirk's husband has just retired after 20 years with the Navy. With daughters Darcy 15, Karen 14, and Suzanne 11, and Kathleen 8, they will soon be moving to Boston where he has accepted a job with Harvard's Graduate School of Business.

Charlotte Cohn Davis and O. B. enjoyed a lovely trip last summer with their three children; Rebecca 12, Alexandra 10, and Joshua 7. They toured Ireland, England and Paris, making both crossings by ship.

Nancy Roycroft Perry says that, except for chauffeuring their four children, about all she does is play golf since they live right on the fifth hole of the Old Town Club in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Babette Selhausen Trader has recently been appointed assistant dean of women at Kalamazoo College, after serving 5 years in the same position at Western Michigan University. Dr. Trader remains at W. M. U. in the School of Business as chairman of the department of marketing.

Late February brought a phone call from Dot Heep Larson saying that her daughter Susan wanted to fly East with Hav to see Mary Baldwin while Dot stayed home nursing a leg broken in a December ski accident! Dot says she hopes to be able to hobble to Susan's high school graduation this spring.

The same week, Anne "Simsie" Smith left a hospital in Springville, N. Y. after she and McKelden had stopped over there en route back to Staunton from a skiing jaunt in Stowe, Vt. On the last swing down the slopes, she fell and broke her leg and will be in a cast until mid-June.

Beginning their third year in Oklahoma, Elizabeth McCampbell Burton reports that second grader Holly is enjoying Blue Birds and 4-year-old Christy is enjoying everything. Under the Foster Parents Plan they share the thrill of the adoption of an 8-year-old boy in Columbia, S. A.

Ann Whitehead Thomas' little Elizabeth will be two in May. Jean Griffith Mitchell stays busy with the many activities involved with their three boys, Mack 11, Craig 10, and Scott 7. She says she's already making plans for our reunion.

Ann Jackson McCoy and her Army Major husband are back from Germany and stationed at Leavenworth, while Betsy Mueller Parker left in January to join her husband, a Lt. Col., who's already in Munich. What a pity their duty didn't coincide!

Nancy Nettleton Rood says that Ken is still teaching at Hopkins in New Haven and is now the principal of the junior school. Their Judy, a second grader, is a Brownie, and Nancy is "still running crazily with P.T.A., hospital work, and Scouting."

Gayle Heron in Seattle, a biologist with the department of oceanography at the University of Washington, tells of the challenge of new puzzles to solve in fascinating work with "plankton, primarily copepods." Sounds not only fascinating, Gayle, but most impressive.

That should do it for this time. Please keep us posted on your activities, and if you are in touch with some of our classmates, tell us about them, too! Keep Commencement '65 in mind for our 20th reunion, but don't wait that long to come back unless you have to! And remember: the secret word is WRITE!

PEGGY NAIRN DWORSHAK
(Mrs. Ward W.)
7712 Persimmon Tree Rd.
Bethesda, Md. 20034

Harriet Showell Bald writes that she and LeRoy have sold their house in Arnold, Md. and are building another nearby. Meanwhile, they are living on a tobacco farm. Their baby started kindergarten this year.

Janet Whitney Bowyer wrote on her Annual Giving envelope that she has an 11-year-old son who is busy with Scouts, school patrol and, at the time of writing, a Christmas play. She and her family were looking forward to their first Christmas in a new house.

Everyone in the Class seems to be moving! Hazel Harris Humphrey and family moved in August. Her husband, Jerry, is an architect with the firm of Fisher, Nes and Campbell in Baltimore. He graduated from architectural school at the University of Virginia in 1953. Hazel and Jerry have two children, Susan, 6, and Rob, 3.

Ellen McDonald Minet heard her name in a bakery one day and had a surprise chat with Jean Haley Roberts ('47). Apparently they both like good food, for that is where their paths seem to cross. Ellen added that MBC must have educated their palates!

Mary Lou Brown Myrvik has a nice surprise for all of us. Last June 8 she became the bride of Dr. Quentin N. Myrvik of Poulsbo, Wash. Dr. Myrvik recently resigned the post of professor of microbiology of the University of Michigan to become chairman and professor of microbiology at Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Winston-Salem, N. C. The Myrviks make their home in an apartment on the campus.

Our well-known class author, Rosalie Packard Digby-Seymour, is working on her third book (it may be called "The Cats in Zanzibar," but don't count on it). She is the proud owner of two delicious Siamese cats and was expecting kittens to be born on Lincoln's birthday. Rosalie and her husband were in the U. S. last fall in St. Paul, and in Florida where her mother and stepfather now live. They were in Greece the year before, which Rosalie says was "idyllic and where dreams come true and all that." They were also on a little-known island off the Turkish coast called Lesbos. Rosalie loves London where they are looking for a house. Her husband fishes in the season in South Wales while Rosey reads a good book on the river bank. They have 12 godchildren! Rosalie received cards from Peggy Richardson and Alice Weatherly Samsonoff at Christmas time. Both are living in New York. Peg is assistant to the professor of surgery, Columbia Hospital Medical School. Alice is doing work in the library at Columbia University.

Maria Jones Palmer and husband, Buck, have just returned from skiing at Stowe, Vt. They have a nine-year-old boy. Buck is in the tractor and jeep business. Sue Anderson Van Ness, her husband and their three children have spent the last two Thanksgivings with the Palmers. Mad Richardson joined them last year. Ann Bradshaw Portlock stopped by to see her during the summer, and Maria saw Sherry Merritt Carpenter at Virginia Beach. Sherry has a new baby girl, making three children. Maria visited MBC last summer and was really impressed!

Ann McCray Sherman writes that her husband, Jim, returned from Korea a little over a year ago. Ann and her son, Alan, stayed in Florida until Alan graduated from high school last June and then moved up to Ft. Stewart, Ga. where Jim is stationed. Alan is now a freshman at Georgia Tech and hopes to become an aerospace engineer. Ann is co-chairman of the Thrift Shop, and she enjoys Army wife activities. Ann and Jim both enjoy golf. Ann is on a diet and in an exercise class. She says the Christmas goodies really did her in. The class reminds her of modern dance at MBC and adds, "I am no more graceful than I ever was and 20 years stiffer!" Jim retires from the Army in January, 1965, and they hope to live in Florida.

Jane Thompson Slocomb is a bureau of information from Galena Park, Texas, about some of our other classmates! She relates that Marjorie Moore Council and her family came through Houston last summer. She and her husband had spent the previous night with Bertie Murphy Deming and her family in Alexandria. Jane has seen Mary Anne Lewis Bowman and family several times when in Austin. The Bowmans are building a beautiful new swimming pool. Jane talked earlier this year to Natalie Harrison Faison who has a little girl and a boy, Thad, who is five or six years old. Jane hopes to take her daughter, Lucy, to her 20th reunion at MBC.

Helen Black Sinnott wrote on her Annual Giving envelope that their son, John William, enrolled last fall in the Lawrenceville School, Lawrenceville, N. J. as a third former.

Joan Moran Smith has three boys—Bert, 13 Harry, 9, and David, 7, and one precious girl, 18 months. Joan is teaching kindergarten in the morning and staying home with her little girl each afternoon.

Lillie Jean Trimble Turner has four children —Becky, almost 16, Tonie, 13, Susan, 10, and Mary, 5. Becky hopes to attend MBC in '65. Mama stays busy with car pooling, Junior League, Jackson Opera Guild and Presbyterian Church work. She says, "The new format of the alumnae BULLETIN is simply marvelous—always a treat to receive one. Please tell them to keep up the good work!"

Margaret Wilson wrote on the fly. She was leaving her office for a holiday weekend at White Sulphur. Her community work involves Girl Scouts, and she enjoyed very much attending her first National Council meeting in Miami Beach last October. Margaret sees Shirley Miller Osborne and Janet Whitney Bowyer often. She heard from Betty Bryant Anspach at Christmas time from King of Prussia, Pa., where her husband, Bob, is stationed with the Army.

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Marilyn West Price says she enjoys the BULLETIN and feels very close to MBC. Her oldest daughter, 11, would like to go to her mother's college. Marilyn's husband is a busy general practitioner.

Another doctor's wife is Margaret Davis Evans whose husband is director of medical education at York Hospital in York, Penna. They moved there in 1960 from Philadelphia and love it. Two boys, 16 and 12, complete the family.

Part-time work for a florist is the latest interest of Peggy Miller Reynolds. Her children are Maggie, 16, and Skip, 13.

A note from Elizabeth Worth Caldwell tells us she is assistant director of the student financial aid program at the University of North Carolina.

Jeanne Haley Roberts is now retiring as class secretary after five years of writing one of the fattest class news columns in the BULLETIN. The Alumnae Board has voted to change class secretaries every two years, so that more of us can have an opportunity for first-hand contact with our classmates. What fun it is! Virginia Warner Munce, now Alumnae Secretary, sent me the list of names and addresses of you all. Except for the girls who came to Mary Baldwin after I had taken off for Chapel Hill, every face and smile comes back to mind in a flash! With time flying so fast in our lives, we rarely write letters, and sometimes don't even get out those newsy notes on Christmas cards.

Since there was to be a change in printers for the spring issue, there has been little time to gather news. About thirty double postcards went out to those of you living closest to me from whom we've heard little or nothing in years. Only two were returned in time for printing, but go ahead and use that stamped postcard anytime you want to give us word. The rest of you will get cards before the fall issue of the BULLETIN. News is also welcome in the Alumnae Office. Send us black and white pictures, not Kodachrome, with name, date, etc. on back softly in pencil. You don't have to be a world-traveler, a friend of the President, or mother of ten kids to have something to say that your old friends would like to hear.

The following news came via the Alumnae Office:

Jean Bailey McKinney had nothing of note to tell of her family. They are all a year older, but only the children show it. She works hard at keeping their lives simple and uncomplicated. How do you do it, Jean?

Betty Lane Shadek keeps on the go with her job as assistant editor for a publishing firm in Solon, Ohio. John, her 13-year-old, is an honor student in junior high and turning into quite a football player. Susan, aged 10, made her A's and B's in the fifth grade and is the swimmer and diver in the family.

Charlotte Fall Williams would like to see a picture in the BULLETIN of the new buildings of the Effie Johnson Day Nursery. She said it is a far cry from the old one on Augusta Street. The Mary Baldwin girls still contribute so much to the nursery. How about getting out your camera Ginny Raymond, Mary Frances Quick Deaver, Mary Graves Knowles Hamilton, Janet Bell McPherson, Margaret Churchman Moffett or Louise Mitchell Supple? These girls live in Staunton and can snap us a picture. Aren't they lucky to be able to watch Mary Baldwin grow brick by brick?

Rusty Kearfott Bralley and family spent Christmas in Jamaica. That is the type Christmas we Connecticut Yankees like when Christmas gets too white. On their trip home they were planning to stop by MBC so their teen-aged daughters could see why Mama would like them to go there to school.

Harry Lee Thompson Billington says that her family stays busy selling real estate near Franklin, Tennessee, where they live, plus working for the church, Scouts, and school. She saw the campus last summer and thought it "magnificent."

Lee Edwards Watkins, living in California, said, "Nothing new—same old thing with my three children." The girls, Dell and Donna, are growing fast. They are almost as tall as Lee. Tommy is "all boy."

Myrna Williams Vest tells the office that Marian Seitz Plitt had her fourth daughter, Debbie, in August. On a Christmas card to me, Myrna said that she was helping a friend to raise his motherless 2-year-old daughter. The girl's mother was a dear friend of Myrna's and died unexpectedly last fall. Good luck, Myrna, we are proud of you and know you'll do a good job. Norvelle McMaster Cox returned a card with news long awaited and also included addresses of Betsy John Forrest Dunwoody, living in Coral Gables, and Let Young Holst in Fort Myers, Florida. Norvelle and Eddie (remember Norvelle's trip to see "Moonlight in Vermont" on the snow in that whirlwind courtship?) have three children. Joe will be 17 in April, John will be 13 in March, and daughter, Vaden, is 7 years old. Last fall Norvelle went back to school near her home in Yardley, Penn. and took three courses. She has just finished first semester at Trenton State. She finds twenty years bring changes, challenges and real adjustments.

Tray Vance Good has moved to Shawnee Mission, Kansas. Also living there, according to my list, is Carolyn Vogt Bleish. That sounds like a far piece from Virginia, girls. Hope you can get together out there on the plains.

Mary Bob Hale Hoe's husband, Harry, convinced that the businessman needs a stronger voice in government, ran as Republican candidate for Representative in the Kentucky Assembly. After a long and hard campaign, he won! Mary Bob is still active in Girl Scouting and now Boy Scouting. Her children are growing much faster than she had planned. Priscilla is now 13, Bo is 10, and Merilyn 9 years old. Their latest addition to the family is a horse, which Priscilla plans to bring to Mary Baldwin with her. Mary Bob would like to set up some kind of contact system for MBC alums at the New York World's Fair. I'm afraid, Mary Bob, that unless your husband, as an important Kentucky man, can get us a "booth," it is impossible. The Fair will be gigantic and commercial. Let me issue an invitation, though, as did Jeanne Haley Roberts, to call me through the Stamford, Conn. exchange from your New York hotel. I can keep a record of who is staying where and for how long, and maybe you will be in town at the same time as that old roommate you haven't seen in years. We are running a hotel for relatives, all except for two weeks sometime in August, so give me a ring at 203-348-3111 in the suburbs.

Alice Wilson Matlock said on a Christmas card note to Jeanne Haley Roberts that Annie is in the fourth grade and works hard. She likes her piano lessons. (What about those dancing lessons, Alice?) Alice and her husband went to The Homestead for a fall vacation and were off to Florida for the holidays.

Delle Proctor Kistler was threatened with my use of old news from newspaper clippings if she didn't return her card with the latest. So here's old news, and we'll hear from Delle in time for the fall issue, I hope. In November of 1962, Delle's and Charlie's new contemporary home outside of Fayetteville, N. C., was the scene for an unusual art sale and party. Paintings, prints, and sculpture were displayed as they would normally be shown in a private collection. The sale was for the benefit of a scholarship fund for U.N.C. Pictured in a Raleigh newspaper last spring was Delle pouring tea at a party given at Governor and Mrs. Terry Sanford's house for those workers on the North Carolina Symphony Ball.

As for my family, a picture is being sent to the BULLETIN with this column so that you can see how big the kids are. The younger ones look like twins, but the fact is that they are two years apart. Billy is just growing fast and big, and Peggy is the dainty type. Barb is going to be a tall blond. My husband, Bill, is busy on the building committees for a new grammar school in Darien (which our children will not attend) and for a new Swim and Tennis Club (which they will attend). He works in the city of New York, but enjoys this kind of work for leisure. The kids and I are pushing him to be "contractor" on his own house—we need more room!

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Sally Beals Holzbach and her husband visited the College recently and were pleased with all the changes. He is now retired from the Army and they are remodeling their home "in the woods" near Denbigh, Va.

Kay Else Johnson hopes to visit the campus on her way from Houston to the World's Fair. She spends her extra hours at home in Texas with the League of Women Voters, her garden club and volunteer library work at an elementary school. The new baby daughter at Mary Estes Cumming's house is her fourth child. Besides family duties, she is also teaching piano.

The latest word from "Mott" Higgins Buford is that her children received a Welsh pony for Christmas and it's soon to become a mother Mott is working part time at Freedom's Foundation at Valley Forge, Penna.

Virginia Guthrie Linscott and family live in Modesto, Calif. Last summer they travelled through Oregon and have hopes of coming East for a trip in '64. Little Wendy is in first grade this year and David keeps Virginia busy at home.

'48

Margaret Clarke Kirk lives in St. Petersburg, Fla. where her husband is the rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church. They have three lively sons. This coming summer the Kirks hope to get to the New York World's Fair and to Darien, Conn. to see Margaret's sister Happy Clarke Thorne '47.

Lil Richardson Hall is chairman of the sanctuary committee for the new church building being built by her church congregation.

Russell David, son of LELIA JO HOOK Mehrtens '48

A new son joined the James C. Burns household in Shelbyville, Tenn. last year. His mother is Mena Anderson Burns and he has two brothers and a sister.

Fran Hurley Johnson saw Ged Canby Carroll in Little Rock several times last summer and says she hasn't changed a bit. Fran's children are 14, 11 and 3.

Martha Ross Amos writes that she regularly sees Lib Hardin Taylor at the antique show in Salisbury, N. C. Martha's children are 12, 10 and 7, and she says the Amos family is looking forward to another summer at their log cabin retreat in the hills near Linville, N. C.

The children of Mary Caldwell Parker Moore love sports and living on St. Simons Island, Ga. is certainly suited to a year-round outdoor life. They are Mary Mac, 8, and Benjamin, 11.

Anne Cronin Keith and her four children are temporarily in Maryland waiting to join Frank in quarters at the Naval Air Station, Argentia, Newfoundland. They are looking forward to the trip and will be there for a two-year tour of duty.

Mopsy Pool Page and Gordon are living in Deerfield, Va. near Staunton. When on her honeymoon in New York, she ran into Janey Martin Bloom at the Metropolitan Museum. A few weeks later at The Homestead at Hot Springs, Va., Mopsy saw Lynn Hoyt Yancey '47 and her husband, Clyde, who were there from Greensboro, N. C. for the skiing. Later at Princeton, where the Mary Baldwin Choir gave a joint concert with the Princeton Glee Club, Mopsy saw Mag Wardlaw Gilbert '40, Susan Johnson High '62 and Sarah Maupin Clements '39. Sarah's daughter, Betty Ray Matthews '65 is a member of the Choir.

Fifteenth! That's the magic word for our class reunion. June 5th and 6th. Many have indicated a desire to attend, so I know we'll have a nice group. I plan to go—hope I see YOU there.

Since the BULLETIN arrived after Christmas, many of you didn't know that I was to be our class secretary for the next two years, so I received very few newsy notes on Christmas cards. I sent about half of you post cards begging for news—and really the response was very discouraging. Six girls answered them. Shame on you who didn't and many, many thanks to those of you who did!

My first letter was from Jeanne Dubois Loar. Bill and Jeanne live in Tulsa, Okla. They have three children: Betsy, 11, Billy, 9, and Carol, 3. Jeanne has kept busy this last year as a leader of a Camp Fire group, working with the Cerebral Palsy Association and doing church work. Jeanne writes that she'll miss the reunion this year because of a conflicting business trip with Bill, but she hopes that in the near future she can pack up the whole family and make a real vacation trip back to Mary Baldwin.

Ellen Finley Andrews Hunter writes from Roanoke, Va. that Midgie King Scholz is living just up the block from her while their new home is being built. Ellen Finley said that Midgie, Henry, and their four children (three girls and a boy) joined them last summer in a week-end of "roughing it." Ellen Finley and Charlie have two children, a boy and a girl. Ellen Finley, Doris Clement Kreger '48, and Chic Deacon Andrews '47 have been attending a series of seminars for women staged by Hollins College. They have been meeting Ham Middleton Waldrop '48 and Harriet McLean Slaughter '48 from Salem there.

Jean Whipple Dutton has deserted Roanoke for Ben's home town, Winchester, Va.

Mary Duke Blouin and Pete had a wonderful three week trip to Europe in February. They visited Spain, Rome and Switzerland.

Edith James Beckmann writes that their new baby daughter brings their family total to four boys and two girls. They live in Ridgewood, N. J., and she invites us all to call her if we're lucky enough to get to New York for the Fair.

Cynthia Betts Johnson's husband, Bud, has the Edgehill Community Church in the Bronx, and I know she would love to hear from any Fair travelers also. Cyn shared some of her news gleaned from Christmas cards with me. Margaret Ragland Thompson wrote from her home in Forest, Miss. that her four children—one girl 12, and three boys 10, 7 and 4, keep her mighty busy.

Virge Bagley Marsh wrote that they live on a 90-acre farm four miles from Fayetteville, Tenn. Her husband, Buddy, is cashier at the Lincoln County Bank. They have five children. Their sons are Pat, 14, Bill, 13, Alan, 9, and Jack, 5, and one daughter, Mary Ann, 11.

Emily Edwards Acree writes that her husband, Richard, has the Sinclair Oil Agency in Toccoa, Ga. They have one child, Rebecca, 11½. Last summer, they went to Williamsburg via Mary Baldwin and were much impressed by all the lovely new buildings.

Julia Johnston Belton writes that they live right on the Atlantic Ocean just a few miles south of Cape Kennedy. They have been there for four years. Lee has his own printing and publishing business in Cocoa, besides operating an insurance business on the beach. They have three sons—Tom, 13, Dick, 10, and Harry, 5. When not busy with her boys, Julia has had fun with ceramics and dancing in a "line"—all mothers. They work up acts and shows for all kinds of charity and civic events.

Kitty Makepeace Turner writes that she has remarried. Barry is a wonderful father to Kathy and Dick. They also have two little baby daughters, Maria Margaret, 2½, and Heather Tompson, 10 months. They live in Manchester, Mass.

Please don't wait for me to send you a card—write anytime and often. Don't forget to send pictures (black and white) too. I'll be looking forward to hearing from each of you.

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Marjorie Runge Kelso and her husband are building a new home on Offats Bayou in Galveston, Tex. where they will be able to fish from their balcony! Daughter Rai and son Larry are enthusiastic water skiers, swimmers and sailors.

Dixie Seagler Hoaglin's new daughter joins Barbara, 6, and Dick, 5. It's also a new daughter for Robin Carr Wingfield, bringing her total to three girls. The Wingfields are finding New England living "delightful."

Mrs. Robert S. Burgess is the new name of Lee Doremus and she is now the mother of six children, ranging from 20 years down to 9.

Nancy Rawls Watson and Jo Moore Woltz both report that life is full of activities pertaining to their children. Nancy has two girls and Jo's girls number three. Jo says they have just finished enlarging the house again.

Planning a stop at MBC on the way to the World's Fair this summer is Betty Jo Henderson Smith. Her daughter, Joy, is now 9 and is involving her mother in work with the P.T.A. and the Brownies.

Emily Ogburn Doak's husband, Lt. Cmdr. Doak, is expecting orders in June and the family hopes to go South. The Doaks have been living in Newport, R. I. for the past two years, as Sam has been on the staff of the Naval War College. They have seven-year-old twin sons.

NANCY KIRCHNER ELIASON
(Mrs. William A.)
P. O. Box 92
Mansfield, Mass.

Since our last column went to press Anne Faw Bernard and family have moved from Fairfax to Staunton, Virginia. The Bernards' two girls are 9 and 6.

Emme Wingate Hawn and family have a new home in suburban Erie, Pa. Her children are Benjamin, who is 6 and Sally who is 2.

Three cheers for Mary Horton Waldron, who for the third year is taking a night course at the University of Maryland. Mary's stepdaughter Sandi, 18, is a freshman at Radford College. Her other youngsters are: Mary Grace, 6; and Bobby, a kindergartener. Another "Momma" turned part-time career girl is Nancy Cohen Locher, who is doing part-time work at Gettysburg College as counseling psychologist. This semester she is also teaching child and adolescent psychology.

From Atlanta, Jackie Edwards Cohen writes, "We have two boys, Hap is 8 and Gardner is 5. We bought a new house last June. It's two-story, olive green shingle, and looks very New Englandish. We live across the street from Merry Key Ellington '48. I see Penny West Covington often as our boys attend the same school. Matthew and Mark also played on the school football team. Penny and I were out to cheer for every game even though they lost them all." Besides the usual carpool circuit, Jackie keeps busy teaching Sunday School and serving on the altar guild of St. Ann's Episcopal Church, and doing garden club work. I do hope that she's keeping up her bridge game in preparation for our 15th reunion! Recent notes to the College from Clara Jane Burroughs McFarlin and Penny West Covington also give details of our friends in Atlanta. Penny's youngest, Read, is the same age as Clara's Becky—fascinating four! Dick McFarlin is research manager for Armour and Co.'s Atlanta Research Center. Her other children are Robin, 8; Rick, 6; and Roger, 1.

Adriane Heim Lyman represented Mary Baldwin at the University of Rochester presidential installation. She reports that, "The events to which college representatives were invited were very exciting, particularly the very electric performance by the Eastman Philharmonic orchestra."

"Flo" Talmage Landwehr's husband, Joe, has an interesting position with a St. Louis chemical company. They are both active in their Presbyterian church and they have four children.

Marion Roddy McGinnis' husband practices medicine in Dallas. Their children are: John, 8; Jim, 6; Patty, 4; and Susan, 2. The Dallas alumnae utilize her talents.

Harriet Vreeland Reynen's two older girls, Hollie and Leslie, are doing "real well in school and, who knows, may be going to MBC." Another classmate with potential MBC candidates is Margaret Wilson Wood, who writes, "P.T.A., Brownies, Cub Scouts, Junior and Senior Choirs keep me on the go most of the time. I have found time to start a piano study group this year, which inspires a little, much needed practice."

Joan Mertz Vollberg has a new job in Washington. She is once again involved in the travel business working with American Express and the International Bank. When Ernie can get away from his work, they spend much time aboard their sailboat exploring the near and far reaches of Chesapeake Bay.

Latest reports from Bess Plaxco Smith in Port of Spain, Trinidad, reveal that their new life is stimulating, satisfying and occasionally frustrating. Bob is the administrative officer of our American Embassy. Their children attend an English-style school.

Rachel Willis Bischoff '51 and Sis Koblegard Harcus had an interesting reunion last fall. Rachel and her family live in Glencoe, Ill. Her husband is on the faculty of Evanston High School.

After teaching VSDB children for several years. Fran Costello Roller now is teaching public school children in Staunton.

Catherine Callis Howerton is working as director of admissions at the Louise Obici School of Nursing in Suffolk, Va. The job includes traveling around to Virginia and North Carolina high schools speaking to students on nursing as a career.

After writing a TV script, produced in March, featuring the Plymouth Bay Girl Scout Council, I've written a half-hour volunteer recruitment show which will be taped this spring for airing in September over TV. It's fun to be doing this sort of writing again after 10 years!

Before fall, please write a few lines and send along some pictures to me at the above address. Even newspaper clippings would be welcomed in our continuing search for "missing" classmates.

HELP! Now's the time for some good classmate to come to the aid of her Class of 1951 and vigorously volunteer to assume duties as new class secretary. We need YOU!

Betty Stall Mullikin issues an invitation to "any and all friends of MBC to stop by "Seascape" (their new beach house at Pawleys Island, S. C.) for a glad reunion anytime." Betty is busy in Greeleyville, S. C. with church activities, substitute teaching and raising two little ones. She is even involved in the P.T.A. and her oldest child is only four years old.

Page Wilson Kelly lives in Houston, Texas. Becky is eleven years old and in the sixth grade. "Butch" is in the fourth grade and quite an athlete. Page teaches fourth grade at St. Stephen's Episcopal Day School. She hopes to get to New York sometime in July while the children are at camp.

Jane Moudy Van Dragt had a most pleasant reunion with Dr. Humphreys as her guest at University of Michigan Biological Station, Douglas Lake, Mich. last August.

Diane Prettyman DeWall moved to Chicago (River Forest) in November. Her husband, Dick, is surgery head at Mt. Sinai hospital and Chicago Medical School. Diane has three daughters. Beth is in fourth grade, Amy is a kindergartener and Melissa is "at home." Diane's activities include Junior League, Infant Welfare, Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae work, and a 6-month-old beagle dog!

Jean Scholes Blackwelder received her M.A. in art last June from the University of Delaware and is teaching art in Wilmington now.

Betty Fink Schilling's daughter, Kathy, is 11 years old and a Campfire Girl. Betty is Kathy's Group Leader. Ricky is 8 and a Cub Scout. Nancy, 3, is Betty's big helper (?) at home.

Patsy Wilson Hitch and family are going on their fourth year in Glenn Springs, S. C. Her two boys are Richard, 1½, and Christopher, 4.

Mary Carolyn Hollers Jutson is taking two post-graduate art courses at Trinity University and finding it very exciting to be going to school again.

Jean Romm Robinson has been living in Miami since 1955. Her husband is a dentist and they have four children: Robin, 10, Ralph, Jr., 9, Roland, 7, and Candace, 5.

Carolyn Pleasants Eden's husband, Tom, has a new title with Auburn University Educational Television. He is public relations coordinator. All three of Carolyn's children are in school this year. Carolyn's still with USDA Soil Conservation Service as secretary. As if that weren't enough, she is busy with Brownies, Cubs, and violin practice (for son, Steve).

After reading the article in the last issue of the BULLETIN, you all should now know how to glamourize your drab, housewifey lives by employing the proper phrasing; so load the washing machine, sit down and write to me now. Incidentally, I am planning to get my master's in Spanish, French and German. Also, Bill and I are planning to take the children on a trip around the world, soon.

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Anne Newton Walker wrote that her summer was spent remodeling and moving into another house. Her boys, aged 8 and 6, are thrilled with their new rooms, she says.

Barbara Conlon Miescher says she hopes to pay a visit to MBC soon. Her special project

ALLETTA JERVEY Hudgens '51 and family

this year is a group of 25 Brownies, including her own daughter.

After moving into a new home in September, Ann Hefner Locy has enjoyed planning her garden, with help from her daughters Anita Marie, 8, and Ellen Frances, 4.

Besides Aletta Jervey Hudgins two lovely children, she says her household recently included seven wire-haired terrier puppies.

Four boys, ages 9, 8, 6 and 19 months, keep Marilyn Walseth Gano constantly busy. Last summer they all vacationed on a sheep ranch in South Dakota.

After eight years in California, Martha McMullan Aasen and her husband are Easterners again. He is now publicity director for New York Life Insurance Company.

JANET RUSSELL BRADLEY
(Mrs. Clifton N., Jr.)
RD 1, Evesham Rd.
Cherry Hill, N. J.

After a wonderful but busy Christmas, it is a pleasure to relax and re-read Christmas cards. They were all lovely this year. Thank you.

We have always enjoyed Ruth Harrison Quillen's original cards. Ray and Ruth now have three children; Linda, 7, Kirk, 6, and Timothy Ray, born last September.

Lucy Carrington Jones is going on an around-the-world tour for the second time. This trip will include such "off-beat" places as Cambodia, Afghanistan, Iran and Pakistan. The trip will take three months. Don't forget to write us all about it, Lucy.

Patsy Murphy Whitman wrote that Bruce is vice president of Flight Safety Inc. They have three sons: Bruce, 5; Stewart, 3; and John, 2. The Whitmans live in a house that is 240 years old and enjoy living in the North very much.

What an exciting life Ann Schlosser has! She is doing archaeology work in northwest Georgia, working for the University of Georgia archaeology department. She enjoyed fall in the out-of-doors after two years of doing library work. The place where Ann is working was inhabited by Indians in 7000 B.C. or earlier. Her recreation is hiking, caving and coon hunting. "Busdriver's vacation," Ann?

Children of PATSY DEHARDIT Hicks '52

This winter, Ann is in Athens, Ga., classifying the artifacts.

Jean McCann Whitesell writes that her husband, Cal, practices law in the firm of Whitesell, Alton and DeMent. They have three children: Ruth, 9, Christine, 7, and Calvin, Jr., 2. Jean says she is busy with the usual activities, home, church, Junior League, etc. and they "keep me too busy, but it's hard to stop the snowball from rolling." That is so true, Jean.

It is always nice to hear from Billie Smith Towlen. They had a nice Christmas, added a canary to their family and Billie is constantly painting. The Towlens hope to go to Texas next summer. Billie is recuperating very nicely but still has to take it easy.

A novel card came in from Bill and Dorothy Smith Purse. It was a flyer from "The House of Purse." Smithie has three girls. Mary, 10, is a junior Girl Scout, plays the piano well and is on the student council at school. Paula, 8, is a Brownie Scout, with her mother as her leader. Louise, 6, is a first grader with the "devil in her eyes and beauty in her smile." Bill, Smittie's husband, earned his graduate certificate from the American Institute of Banking this year. Camping is the favorite recreation for the Purse family and they plan to camp all the way to the N. Y. World's Fair in '65.

Susannah Tucker Brinsmade sent a picture of her lovely children, Christine and Louisa, but it was in color, so I'm the only one who can enjoy it. Please remember, pictures have to be in black and white to be reproduced properly. The Brinsmades have just finished their country home on the Blanco River in Wimberly, Texas and spend all their free time there.

Another color picture came from Carline Lobitz Sheppard. It was of their four children: Charles Carlton, 3 months; William Marsh, 7; Sidned Carl, 4 and Colleen, 6. Such adorable children!

What a Christmas Diane Truett Roberts had! Her children all had the chicken pox over the holidays. Diane and All have two children. Truett is in the first grade and Hillary is in nursery school. Diane keeps busy also as docent at the art museum and Al is practicing internal medicine.

Take a look at Betty Ralston Moore's boy. He is 2 years old and looks like he could win a child's beauty contest. Peter, Betty's husband, is the drug representative for William P. Paythress and Co. in Richmond, Va.

"Second families are really being endorsed by me," wrote Betsy Seward Totty. She had 2 girls, Susan 12, and Patricia, 10, and then a boy, Seward, a year ago. Betsy and her husband also are building a new house.

Monroe and Elsie Nelms Nash saw Jim and Margaret McLaughlin Grove last fall and "spent several happy hours with them." Jim

Children of DIANE TRUETT Roberts '52

Grove is a partner in the firm of Anderson and Strudwick, investment brokers.

Another faithful writer is Pat Casey Del Rose. She said that Patricia walks around the playpen now, is active and is a real character. Charlotte, their oldest, says anything and everything. Pat mentioned in her letter that she and Harry had been on the parade route and had seen President Kennedy just minutes before his tragic assassination.

Ruth Ann Worth Puckett writes that she is active in garden clubbing, as exhibit chairman, sings in the choir, sews a lot, and if that alone isn't enough to keep her busy, she also has three children. Ben is in the third grade, Carol in the first grade and Laura is at home.

Mitty McClung Johnston is in her new home now. They have a lovely daughter, who is in the first grade, and a beagle puppy "who rules the roost."

how important letters are, as Lady Ingraham Westcott knows. Even though she is busy with her four children, she is class secretary for St. Mary's School in New York. Lady's children are John, 12, Diane, 10, David, 7 and Richard, 5.

Betty Gwaltney Schutte says their move from Winchester, Va. to the county has more advantages than disadvantages. They are now living in a 200-year-old stone farmhouse near Boyce, Va. Her two boys are crazy about their baby sister, Elizabeth.

It was nice to hear from Jeanne Arnold Grant, again. She has two children, Jon and Neil. They saw Vernon and Nancy Jones Smith last summer and had "a ball."

I also received Christmas cards from the following:

Jessica Gilliam Claussen—"all six of us are doing fine." They, too, are building a new house.

Betty Scott Jones—They are all well.

Patsy DeHardit Hicks—All are well.

Peggy Moore Ripley—has three children: St. Clair, 4, Huston, 2, Timothy, 9 months.

Laura Hillhouse Cadawallader—invited us out to Disneyland. With expenses, paid, Laura?

May Jack Thornton McCavitt—all are well.

Martha Brown—well and busy.

Marilyn Malpass Papy—has three children: two girls and one boy.

Marianne Stanford Thornburg—has one son, Gib, and wrote, "it's nice to keep up with everyone." I agree, Mare.

The Alumnae Office sent news that Dorothy Payne Nash has moved to Tennessee, where Dick is on the staff of the Student Counseling Center at the University of Tennessee. They are glad to be in the sunny South again.

Nancy Gray Waller attended a reunion and meeting with other MBC alumnae in Baltimore, Md. Dotty Snodgrass Goldsborough and Duffie McBryde Gray were there. They all hope to set up an alumnae chapter in that area.

Kip and I had a wonderful time last fall visiting Jim and Phyl McLean Bulmer. Their new home is lovely and their two children adorable. Jim is men's wear merchandising manager for SPORTS ILLUSTRATED magazine. Sam and Patty Mann Burr live in Pennsylvania, not too far from us and were able to spend a day "on the farm" with us. It was grand seeing them again. Our poor pony took a lot from all six kids, three belonging to Patty and Sam.

Isn't it nice to read about your classmates? I want to thank each one of you for your cards and letters. YOU make this job a pleasure! Keep the letters coming in.

The newsletter will have to be rather brief this time, as I am a little short on news from all of you. I suppose with all the Christmas and early spring activities, it is a little difficult to write . . . but please remember this column depends on you!

Nelle McCants Smith has just moved into a new home on the lovely island of Hilton Head, S. C. Her husband, John, is the new public relations director for Sea Pines Plantation Company. She extended an open invitation to all of us to plan our vacations accordingly and go see her!

Helen Harrod Thompson had exciting news. Her husband has invented a coin-operated car wash—a complete do-it-yourself operation. He has already received a patent on this and has sold to ALD out of Chicago, Ill. This company has now taken over the sales distribution, etc. and it is soon to be a national item . . . so look for them in the future!

Mary Weber Stoner Taylor wrote that they had a terrific hailstorm in June of '63 that was absolutely ruinous to them all. However, things are coming along fine now and she sends her best to everyone.

Alice Welch and Dan Hamilton Daggett were married February 15th of this year. Dan is a graduate of Rice University in Houston and has his MS in Electrical Engineering from M. I. T. He is a design specialist at General Dynamics in Forth Worth.

Barbara LeMare Loux had a lovely summer last year when she and her little daughter, Lise Maria, visited Barbara's parents in Short Hills, N. J. Barbara's husband is a pilot for the Los Angeles Dodgers and they have wonderful times attending the world series games. Just recently her husband returned from an extended trip to Africa where he had been on a safari . . . and was quite successful.

Anne Ferguson Beisel wrote that she and her husband, Larry, are living in Evansville, Ind. now where Larry is a pediatrician at Wellorn Cilnic. They have two children, Larry, Jr., 7, and Margaret, 4.

I have written to Noi Peers Doyle to see if she would take over as class secretary and she will be the reporter from here on. Her address is 783 Hildeen Drive, Lexington, Ky., so please take note and help make her job an easy one! My best to you and all; and if you are ever in Texas—give me a call. You'll be welcome anytime!

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Sue McManus is working on her master's in education at Furman University in Greenville, S. C.

Ellen Martin Coe has recently moved into a new home. Her four children are 9, 6, 3 and 8 months.

AUDREY PEPPER OLIVER
(Mrs. James)
3431 Pennington Lane
Winston-Salem, N. C.

My breathing had just returned to normal after lugging the Christmas decorations to the attic when it was time to write up the latest class news. My son, Clayte, 6, has become the envy of his first grade class as he walks around all day on crutches. This all came about the last icy, snowy morning that schools were closed due to bad weather in January. He was trudging up the hill in front of our house pulling his sled, when two youngsters came careening down the hill on their sled unable to guide it and crashed straight into Clayte, breaking his leg. After the frantic dash to the hospital and rushing back and forth for X-rays, he acquired his new prestige symbol . . . his cast. Being gazed at admiringly by friends and catered to by relatives, Clayte had decided this is better than Christmas. I hope he doesn't decide to make this an annual event. Linda, 8, agrees, having grown tired of carrying books for her helpless brother.

Rebecca (Bede) Beasley Burr writes she and her husband, Grif, moved to a new house in Memphis, Tenn., needing more room as most growing families do and wanting to get in a better school district since their daughter, Rebecca, started school this year. She says Grif is really surrounded by women with Rebecca, 6, Kathryn, 4, and Allison, 1. Carolyn McGeorge Henslee and Joe had been by to see Bede and they enjoyed discussing their daughters. Carolyn has four girls. (I think it's time to begin building a new dormitory at Mary Baldwin, don't you?)

Elizabeth (Widgee) Switzer Zirkle and husband, Walter, love living in Harrisonburg, Va. with their children Bud, 6, and Elizabeth, 2. Widgee is glad Ethel Smeak '53 has come to Madison College to teach, and says she can't wait to see everyone in June.

Joyce Fauver Swann is in Seaford, Del. Harris is still with Southern States Cooperative as farm supply supervisor. Ann Preston, 7, keeps Joyce busy chauffeuring to ballet and choir and Wendy, 3, leads her a merry chase from morning till night.

I was delighted to hear from Musser Watkins Warren in Bristol, Va. Congratulations to George who was elected to the Virginia State Senate. Musser goes back and forth to Richmond for "special occasions" but with George III, 12, Merle, 10, and Jimmy, 6, she stays mighty busy at home.

Children of DONIA CRAIG Dickerson '54

Brian, son of LEE YEAKLEY Gardner '54

A son finally arrived in the household of Mary Elizabeth (Sis) Mason Torrence in Gastonia, N. C. Charlton, III was born on his Daddy's birthday and greatly welcomed by his sisters, Elizabeth Ring, 8, and Catherine, 5½. Charlton is vice-president and treasurer at Superior Yarn Mills in Mt. Holly, N. C. Sis writes that she does volunteer work with the Junior Service League, and all the other things a housewife with three children does.

Donia Craig Dickerson writes she is looking forward to the big reunion. She and Buford have a new house in Nashville, Tenn., and confusion reigns with Bill, 5½, and twin girls, Craig and Crandall, 18 mos. Donia reports that golf is her therapeutic treatment.

The Saturn program for Boeing is lucky to have Brian, husband of Lee Yeakley Gardner who says he enjoys the work tremendously. Lee says he is enjoying Huntsville, Ala. and her time is full with Cindy, 6, Debbie, 4, and Brian, Jr., 1.

Judy Vann Kenan writes that Pat will finish his otolarngology residency in June at Duke and they will spend the summer deciding on a place to practice. Judy sent adorable pictures of Dan, 4, and Sarah, 1, and I hope they will not be too large to be printed. Incidently when you send pictures, please send only black and white and write the name of your child and your name lightly on the back with a pencil. Everyone loves to see the apples of their eyes so please don't hesitate to send them.

Mary Louise McKee Hagemeyer writes that Jack has received his master's degree from the University of Texas and went to work for General Dynamics in Forth Worth. She keeps busy by taking courses in math and philosophy at Texas Christian University. This sounds quite interesting.

Welcome back to the United States to Mary Stuart Lewis Fudge! I noticed the last address we had for Mary Stuart was in Amsterdam, Holland, but she writes that she and Carl are in Elizabeth, N. J. Carl has been taking some graduate musicology courses at Rutgers, along with his full schedule at the church and school. Mary Stuart finds time to teach piano to 15 students along with looking after Anne Stuart, 5, Elizabeth, 3, and Robert, 1.

Dan, son of JUDY VANN Kenan '54

Norma Ball Heuer and husband Arthur have just welcomed Arthur Barnes, Jr. to the family, very much to the delight of his sisters, Linda and Lisa, who think he is a big doll and are wonderful "little mothers." The Barnes live in Olivette, Mo. which is near St. Louis.

Lee Pierce Mosso sent a long letter telling about their new home in Springfield, Va. which gives them a chance to spread out a little. It is furnished in "Early Depression" and "Contemporary, Unpainted." I was sorry to hear that two of Lee's children have been critically ill this past year. Andy, 5, contracted glomerulon-nephritis, a kidney disease and was hospitalized for five weeks, and Jan, age 6, became diabetic. She is on a rigid diet and takes insulin shots. Both are doing much better now. Jocelyn, 2, better known as Jossie, "is so ornery no germ would dare come near her" says Lee. Dave received a promotion and is now deputy commissioner of central reports for the Treasury Department. Lee is looking forward to the big tenth.

Stella Elizabeth Surratt, daughter of John and Stella Eason Surratt, arrived just in time to be in the BULLETIN. She will be welcomed home from the hospital by sister Meg, 18 months.

The Alumnae Office sent me some additional news of fellow 54'ers. Nancy Rawles Grissom has a new son, Robert T. Grissom, Jr., and Bob works for General Electric as a programmer in Huntsville, Ala.

Ann Hadaway Greer reports all six Greers are fine. George has been elected City Commissioner at Owensboro, Ky. Congratulations!

Diane Evans Wood and Jim had a grand time island-hopping in the Bahamas last February. They spent most of the summer in their ocean cottage in Delaware with Lorrie, James III, and Paige.

Marian Hollingsworth is still teaching part-time at the University of North Carolina and is working on her dissertation. She hopes to be teaching full time next year after she receives her Ph.D. Adelle Virtue Mitchell reports she is back in Florida, and Betty Garrett Schmidt and family have moved to New Jersey.

Tom, son of NANCY RAWLES Grissom '54

Ida Summer Wood is serving as part-time church secretary at Emmanuel Episcopal Church while Judith, 4, attends nursery school. John continues to teach at Madison College and labor on his dissertation. Jeanne Taylor Block is busy with her new daughter, Lauren, along with community work. Congratulations to these two outstanding class members who are now on the MBC Alumnae Board.

I'm rushing to get this column finished, because I'm leaving for New York in two days on a theater train. We see six shows in five days and have a ball. This, I tell Jim, is to relax me so that I can face housekeeping, my children, my garden club, Dorkus Circle, and the Junior League rummage sale which is fast approaching. The sale may add money for community service, but unfortunately it also adds layers of dirt, disheveled appearance, and shattered nerves to the poor workers.

Please, everyone, make big plans for our reunion on June 5 and 6. Let's see if our class can break the record for attendance. Won't it be fun to see everyone again after 10 years? I can hardly wait! Hope they have the name tags ready . . . my memory isn't what it used to be . . . SEE YOU IN JUNE.

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Virginia Bates Hull is now settled in Metairie, La. as her husband is an executive engineer with Chrysler Corporation, Space Division in New Orleans.

Sarah, daughter of JUDY VANN Kenan '54

Len and Connie Headapohl Pikaart have adopted their fourth baby, a blonde, blue-eyed little girl. They are now living in Athens, Ga. as Len is on the faculty of the University of Georgia.

Dora Lee Wiley Brown and husband Bob are living in Tokyo where he teaches at Johnson's Air Force Base Dependents' School. They have a new baby daughter. Her mother, Agnes Dunlop Wiley '23, recently visited them.

Susannah Smith Hartley has recently traveled with her husband on business trips to Nassau and Tokyo. Their little son is a year old now.

Jane Johnston Darden's three children are 7, 4 and 8 months. Eleanor Harwell Thomsen has two children 5 years and 15 months and Janet James Peters' two little ones are 4 and 2. It's easy to imagine how Jane, Eleanor and Janet spend their days!

Mary Paxton is working full time for the Barker History Library and has also started graduate work at the University of Texas.

Helen Grove Sciacca says she is "enjoying the first efforts in AAUW work in Laurel, Md."

ANN RITCHIE ROBERTSON
(Mrs. Alex F., III)
1520 Brooklyn
Ann Arbar, Mich. 48104

My thanks to those of you who have sent news and changes of address. Please keep us up to date with information about our class.

Dincy Rede Weir sent a lovely photograph of two of her little girls. It came too late for the last issue of the BULLETIN. Carol is 5, Cathy, 3, and baby Diana is 6 months old.

From England came a picture and interesting letter written by Laura Clausen Drum. She lives in Didcot, Berkshire which is one hour from London. She wrote "we've been here almost six months now and have become quite accustomed to the peculiarities of English life. It seems quite natural for me to go to about ten shops each week for the essentials, the butcher for meat, the greengrocer for fruits and vegetables, the baker for bread and yeast, the provisioner for canned goods, the threepence-sixpence store (Woolworth's) for paper napkins—etc., etc." She and Chuck had spent some time in London and Scotland and hope to visit Danish relatives next summer.

In the fall Elaine Baldwin Johnson and her family will be living in Canada. Fred has accepted a position as lecturer in Russian literature at the University of Toronto. Elaine plans to visit her family in Radford this summer. She wrote that Betty Ballentine Bennett's husband is with the SAC and that they and their two children will be moving in June from Little Rock A.F.B. in Jacksonville, Ark.

Children of LAURA CLAUSEN Drum '56

Claire Trotti Stephens is living in Lubbock, Texas now. Hugh teaches at Texas Tech.

Mary Margaret Beale Walter and Reid Strickland Nottingham sent cute snapshots of their sons. I'm sorry that color pictures can't be used by the BULLETIN. Reid and Jim had visited "M. M." and George in December. Jim will complete his Navy duty in July.

Tommy Schneider's mom, Patty Parke Schneider also sent a photograph and some addresses; Sue Priestman Bryan is living in Jacksonville, Florida. Lois Morrison Collins is in Richmond, Va. and "Tish" Casey Radulski is now in Narragansett, R. I.

Sue Berry McMurray wrote that she'd seen Martha Kolbe, Mrs. Lytton and "B. C." briefly in Richmond. Nancy McMurray '59 had visited Sue and her family. Harlan is with IBM.

Dotty Hobby Travis is still in Atlanta and has two little girls. She says it seems as if MBC had changed "impossibly" in the past ten years.

We received an interesting note from Diane Hutchinson Stucki. She is secretary to the Dean of the Graduate School at American University in Washington, D. C. and had begun courses in the science of chemistry and elementary Spanish. Her son, Douglas (5 in January), has Spanish and science every afternoon in school so this is review for him, new for Diane. Don is with the CIA and had completed a course in Chinese last year.

Sue Dozier Morris is in Charlottesville, Va. where Harry (Dink) is in law school. "I can't stay away from the mountains," Sue wrote. She teaches kindergarten. Cindy is a first grader and Jud is about 2.

June Marrow Grossguth's card said that Terri, 4, and Tim, 2, keep her busy. She says that Tim eats constantly and is as strong and energetic as can be. There are no changes reported by Shelby Penn Mooney who is also living in California.

From Jeanette Fisher Reid came the news of a new endeavor—teaching four-year-olds in nursery school three mornings a week. Jimmy is in the same school (different class) and Liza is a first grader. I hope that each of us received and responded to the letter from Jeanette. Corporations are interested in the number of contributing alumnae when they consider large gifts to colleges.

Anne Snell Kopple is found! She is living in Philadelphia. Diane McClenney Macrae is on Staten Island, N. Y. and Mabel Dutton Anchors lives at North Greenville Junior College in Tigerville, S. C.

My family and I enjoyed Christmas in Staunton with the Robertsons. The campus is handsome. I talked with Mrs. Patch who

Helen Ritchie, daughter of ANN RITCHIE Robertson '56

Alex, son of ANN RITCHIE Robertson '56

Daughters of DIANA REDE Weir '56

promised to let us hear from her soon and I saw Tommy Hornbarger Clemmer '55 and Claiborne Dohs Elder '58 briefly.

If you would like to know where a classmate is living, just drop the Mary Baldwin Alumnae Office or me a card.

The deadline for the January '65 issue of the BULLETIN will be next September. When you return from your summer vacation, let us hear from you—and send a snapshot!

SARA BURWELL ROBINSON
(Mrs. N. G.)
64 Carolina St.
Roanoke Rapids, N. C. 27870

In the last BULLETIN I told you that I was retiring as our class secretary. This will be my last column and again I repeat how much I've enjoyed these past four years of correspondence. The Alumnae Board is trying to get a new secretary every two years, so please notify the Alumnae Office if you are interested.

Jerry and I have really been moving a lot this past year. After leaving Minnesota in September we drove through Canada to Niagra Falls and enjoyed the sights there. Then on to Watertown, N. Y. where we lived only six weeks. Upon leaving we spent a few days in New York City, saw a couple of plays, went sightseeing and shopping. I talked to Carla Sue Rucker Nix, but didn't get to see her. She keeps busy with her little girl and relaxes with crewel embroidery and oil painting. Now the Robinsons are settled in North Carolina for a few months. After last winter in Canada it is certainly nice to have such mild weather.

I talked to Nan Candler Freed last week and we hope to get together before we move again. Charlie is completing his ophthalmology residency at Chapel Hill and Nan keeps busy with their two daughters and the AAUW. The Freeds plan to visit Bob and Bryant Pope Pilcher in Richmond the last of February. Bryant writes that Bob has 18 months left in his orthopedic residency at MCV and then they'll be leaving. She plays in the same bridge club with Nancy Pillow Bachman '58, Sally Squires Erickson '60 and Joanne Beecroft Hamilton '60.

Jerry and I thoroughly enjoyed the annual Thanksgiving Day game in Roanoke and saw VPI beat VMI to win the Southern Conference title! While leaving the stadium we saw Mary Ellen Cranwell Deemer and Bill. We enjoyed our short visit; Mary Ellen looks wonderful . . . hasn't changed a bit.

Received too late to be included in the last BULLETIN was a letter from Ann Kennedy Melton. Junius has begun his teaching in the Department of Bible and Religion at Southwestern, Memphis, Tenn. where he is an assistant professor. His Ph.D. dissertation should be completed sometime this year.

Ann Rasmussen Parker is living in Galveston while Randy completes his Army hardship tour in Korea. They have three children: Stephen, Scott and Jeanne.

Another Army wife, Betsy Crawford Perry wrote a lengthy New Year's greeting from Germany: "I quickly took up German lessons and learned to drive our tiny Volkswagon, and Roger left within a week of our arrival for two months' border duty. Rog puts in many long hours of labor in the small dispensary here, the 'field,' the Officers' Club and home." They have been to Heidelberg, Nurnburg and Frankfort and plan a two-week tour in April to see more of Europe.

Describing their daughters Betsy writes,

Daughters of BETSY CRAWFORD Perry '57

Children of JULIE RAND Brawner '57

"Leigh is a blond, gray-eyed 4-year-old now—a good girl most of the time—whom we affectionately refer to as 'Perpetual Mouth.' She goes to nursery school where she has learned to color like a lady, recite nursery rhymes, and to speak incorrectly. (I don't got no crayons.) Kim is a blond, blue-eyed 2-year-old—bad most of the time—she worships her sister, but delights in frustrating Leigh to tears. She is the imp of the family—can melt your heart with her hysterical giggle, or incite your wrath with a drawing down of her lip and a 'no want to do it.'"

Ann Moody DeGrassi and Paula Branch Tobin have renewed acquaintances since Paula and Al moved to Amarillo. Barbie Ott Schneidau writes that the last address she had for Janie McHaney Southern was Houston, Texas.

A new son was the latest news from Julie Rand Brawner. Jim is now a cardiology fellow at Grady Hospital in Atlanta. Also new parents are Johnny and Nancy Switzer Sowers. They adopted a little boy, born October 5. Nancy writes that she is no longer teaching but has been learning to ride horseback from an instructor who also teaches riding at MBC.

A nearby neighbor of mine is Barbara Croom Lazarz. She has been enjoying their Army tour at Ft. Bragg where her husband is stationed. She has learned to play golf and is also enjoying tennis and bridge. Janet Lilly Compton writes that they should be leaving Miami this summer. Kresge transfers her husband quite often.

Peggy Jorstad Lucas and Bill have had a good year. They enjoyed trips to the beach, to the zoo in D. C., to homecoming at VPI and to Betty Stuart Dalton Boehme's wedding. (Peter's family was in Germany and Peggy and another girl sat in as "honorary family.") Sue Boss Boring and Wayne had a nice trip South and a very pleasant visit with Helen Thompson Sharpley and Don in Savannah, Ga.

Barbara Bullock Graham and Tina Edmunds Heintges '61, formerly of Petersburg, Va., are now in the same bridge club in Dallas. Also from Texas came a long letter from Ada Lou Worth Turner. She and Ken have moved six times since they've been married so I don't feel alone now! She sings in a church choir in Seabrook.

Linda Worthington Packard says the past year was packed with an assortment of trips, moves, projects and expenditures. After getting situated in a house, their vacation was spent antique hunting through Dallas, San Antonio and the Edwards Plateau country. On another trip they journeyed through southern Colorado, Royal George and camped overnight at the Great Sand Dunes.

A new canine, a St. Bernard named Wendy, is the new "family" addition to Jim and Frankie Wood Apistolas. Patsy Maxwell McCurry lives in Albany, Ga. where Bill is a clinical psychologist in private practice. He is finishing his Ph.D. at Florida State.

New home owners are Phil and Sue Paterson Maloney in Tucson, Ariz. and Marvin and Judy Gabel Lutz in Richmond, Va. Marvin was ordained in August and is assistant minister of the Ginter Park Presbyterian Church there.

News may be a bit short for our class this issue, but do note the many cute baby pictures! Again many thanks to all who answered my cards in the past years and please continue to let me hear from you!

'58 ANN MAXWELL BURNETT
(Mrs. Donald A.)
38 Clareside Drive
East Longmeadow, Mass. 01028

It was grand hearing from many of you again. We Burnetts were happy to see 1964 arrive, and so far the only trouble has been three stitches in Jeff's head. But after my broken ankle, Jeff's hernia operation, and Don's very serious automobile accident last year, this year can only be better.

Now for the news: Judy Deener Brent is still teaching eleventh grade English in Richmond, Va. But knowing Judy, it did not surprise me that she is also taking French and modern Greek, after finishing a sculpture course. Judy fills her "spare time" doing volunteer work at the museum.

Margot Teague Eaton's little girl, Claire, has a new brother. Margot tells me Janie Pinckard Crum is now living in New Mexico. Carolyn Griffis Smith and George are in Hawaii for two more years. They hoped to go to Bangkok and Hong Kong last fall.

If a truck, with camper arrives in your driveway, it will be Nancy Williams Deacon, Jim and Kip. They traveled this easy way to Williamsburg, Va. for Thanksgiving. Nancy and Nancy Allen Loyd Goering saw Merita Long Webster this summer. Merita traveled down from New Jersey for a visit.

It was good to hear from Sidney Stone Anderson who is now living in Oklahoma City. Wayne, her husband, is working for Scientific Products, the chemical and laboratory equipment brand of American Hospital Supply. She sent a picture of her two boys: Steven, who will be 5 in March, and Christopher who will be 4 in August.

Jo Ann Beard Brook writes from Middlesex School in Concord, Mass. Her husband, Rob, is in his second year of teaching German and keeps busy coaching sports and club activities. They have one daughter, Robin Carlyle, who will be 2 in March. Jo Ann adds, "We love New England, and Concord particularly. It's an ideal little town, yet close enough to Boston."

A marvelous letter from Faye Smith Peck brought a lot of news. She and George and blue-eyed, blond G. W. P., Jr., almost one, are living in Haddonfield, N. J. George is with Eastman Dillon in Philadelphia. Last summer Faye saw some MBC girls while in Savannah, Ga. She tells me that Joy Pierpont Sharpley has three darling children, two boys and a girl. Polly Gignilliat is working for a doctor, and Linda Bedingfield Ennis has two boys. Faye's sister, Mimi Smith Jones '60, has a darling 10-month-old daughter. Connie Davis Doulan '59 and Helen Thompson Sharpley '57 are working in Savannah.

Jackie Senna Westfall and Lake are now in Durham, N. C. at Duke Medical School, where Lake is a junior resident, after two years with the Army in Texas. While in Texas, they traveled into Mexico, and saw much of the "wild west." Jackie did some modeling for Joske's of Texas and Frost Brothers. She had her picture in HARPER'S BAZAAR last summer. While Pamela, 6½, and Lake 5½, are in school, Jackie works with the children at the Child Guidance Clinic.

We hear that Peggy Flythe Teague is in Charlottesville, Va. where her husband is doing his surgery residency. Their daughter, Ferrel, is 4, and they have a little boy "Jensie, III," who is almost a year old.

Katherine Smith Reid, who is living in Newport, R. I. where Jim is interning at the U. S. Naval Hospital, sees Mabel Ann Bellwood Kramer. Kathy and Jim have added number three to their clan, their second son.

Emily Luscher Parr writes that they have one daughter, Emily Shawn, age 2. She is still working as a chemist for the W. J. Barrow Research Laboratory in Richmond, Va.

Adele Cross Olmstead has two boys, Hal, 4½, and Randy, age 2. Ed, her husband, received his Ph.D. in mechanical engineering at Northwestern University this past fall and is a post-doctoral fellow at Johns Hopkins University now.

Congratulations to Margie Clarke Moring and Fred on the birth of their daughter. Fred is practicing law in Washington, D. C.

If I can help you locate some old friends, let me know. We have lost contact with Rachel Kosher Cottrell and would love to know where she is. Keep the news coming, and if you are near Springfield, Mass. during summer trips, I would love to see you.

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Caroline Caldwell Wugofski's husband is a Captain in the Army and they are stationed at Bad Tolz, Germany until the spring of 1966.

Barbara Allan Hite is teaching eighth grade English in Dayton, Va. and her husband is teaching Spanish at Madison College.

Cameron Samuels McPherson has two children, Douglas, 4, and Cameron, 1. Her husband is teaching at the Naval Academy.

From Independence, La., the strawberry capital of the world, comes news that Carlana Lindstrom Lane and Dewey have obtained a black German Shepherd puppy named Ursa Niger (Latin for Black Bear). Carlana says her mother would rather baby sit with two male grandchildren than this bad dog. Dewey is so busy as chief surgery resident at a small charity hospital that Carlana has joined all sorts of organizations and has even completed two "fun" courses at Southeastern College in Hammond, La.

Anne Pierce Ansley writes that Rufus continues to teach high school English in Lisbon, N. H. Anne has retired from teaching to be a housewife and mother—"a much more enjoyable occupation."

Betsy Sheetz loves living in Atlanta. She finds that working for a stock brokerage firm is interesting and fascinating.

Ann Fry Grant and her husband are now living in Monterey, Calif.

Recently Elizabeth Wood Marks and Bailey added to their home four needed rooms and a carport. Butch states that she is knee deep in singing, which we all know she loves. Along with her Junior League work, garden and greenhouse, her two children, Lisa, 4, and Bailey, 2½, completely fill her days.

Gwen Kennedy Neville and Will are still in Florida. Will is enjoying his work as Presbyterian pastor at the University of Florida. Their two daughters are Kathie, 2½, a real chatter-box, and Mary Grace, 1. At Montreat last summer, Gwen had a grand reunion with Carolyn Gilmer Hisley '60. Jack is in his third year of medical school at the University of Maryland. Gwen also heard from Mary Anne Taylor Bradford in Birmingham, Ala., who is as busy as Gwen with two children under three years.

Sidney Williams Gooding is living in Jacksonville, Fla., where her husband, Paul, is manager at Law Engineering Testing Co. Sidney is the new children's librarian at the public library in Jacksonville.

Lilalee Guerrant Dollard and husband are living in their new home in Richmond, Va. Christi and Gerry have been married 3½ years and have a big, blue-eyed daughter, Holly Lee. Gerry works for Aetna as a claims adjustor.

School has been fun but quite hectic for Sue Ritchie. She is in the choir at Columbia University and says the week before Christmas was a panic because the choir sang at least once daily. Also, at school, Sue has an interesting job in the psychology department primarily typing and transcribing. Vivacious Sue!

Suzanne Stirling Quayle has retired from the teaching profession temporarily to start a family. She declares her son keeps her as busy as her class of 34 fourth graders ever did. Suzie is active in charity work in Suffolk, Va. and her husband is president of the local Jaycees.

Ginger Hofler Duvall and Mell visited Suzie last July while on a trip to the east coast. Ginger and Mel are still enjoying life in San Francisco, Calif., where Ginger is teaching second grade in nearby San Mateo County.

Julia Finks Biggs and Bill have returned to Texas City, Texas after a two-year Army tour in San Francisco.

Adventurous is one word to describe the life of Ann Apperson Boston since she left Mary Baldwin. As stewardess for three years for Delta Airlines her typical day was breakfast in Texas, lunch in Georgia, dinner in Miami and sleeping in Chicago. After dating Jim for several years, they and another couple decided to marry at 1:00 a. m. and eloped at 3:00 a. m. to Mexico City via a Pan-Am jet. They gave each other toothbrushes as wedding gifts and spent a delightful honeymoon in Acapulco. Jim is a partner in a real estate firm in Memphis, Tenn., their home

As an art teacher in the public schools of the District of Columbia, Nancy McMurray has had Bobby Baker, Jr., and two Udalls for students. Nancy would like to do something for the newly named John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts this summer during vacation—even stuff envelopes! Nancy's plans include a trip to the New York World's Fair, so if you go, look for her in the Opera House.

Lucy Fisher and Nancy have recently moved into a "doll house" in Washington. The house, the nature of which may be described as a miniature toy, used to be a one room school but later was enlarged.

Ann Bagwell Hunt states that nothing is new with her but an addition to the family. (See Births.)

Emory O'Shee Apple and Jim have been active in politics and the Episcopal Church in Paducah, Ky. Jim practices law, teaches business law at a local college and attends Army Reserve meetings.

Eliza Williams is still working in the selection of candidates for the Peace Corps in Washington, D. C.

Ann Peterson McGee and Bob now have three children and live in Annandale, Va. Bob is an engineering representative for Hiller Aircraft.

Celeste Weathers is a public welfare worker for the Dekalb County Family and Children's Services in Decatur, Ga.

Ann Singletary Bass spent the winter dividing her time between teaching piano and assisting George, who is on the staff of the University Museum in Philadelphia, Penn.

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Charlotte Park Melichar's husband, Emil, has just published a book analyzing state individual income taxes. Charlotte is working in a "study hall" program for junior high students who are behind in their work. She saw Lucy Fisher, Nancy McMurray and Anne McClung at the first orientation meeting.

Peggy Dunton Ebert's husband is now stationed at Vance A.F.B., Enid, Okla. where they moved after "three wonderful years in Lakenheath, England." Their children are 6 and 4.

Margaret Foster Curtis has two little boys, 17 months and 4 months. Her husband is a history professor at the University of South Carolina extension in Hampton, S. C.

Verna Wagner is in Macon, Ga. as director and speech pathologist for the Central Georgia Speech and Hearing Center.

I am afraid the news for this issue is not as plentiful as in the past, but it does take your cards and letters to make each issue. Don't wait for me to contact you—WRITE.

Frankie Willard Daniel and Randy have moved to Charlottesville, Va., where Randy has accepted a three year National Defense Fellowship in medieval history. They had been living in Boston, Mass. while Randy completed work on his Th.M. degree at Harvard Divinity School. Frankie is teaching a combination class of slow-to-average first and second graders in a trailer that serves as a classroom. She has even become a "Charlottesville lady" and has kept MBC students on weekends. Before leaving New England they had visits from Nancy Simpson Steinmiller '61 and Bill and Mary Ellen Brown Lewis and Bob. The Lewis' are living in Bloomington, Ill., where Bob is on the English faculty of Indiana University and Mary Ellen continues her work on a Ph.D. degree.

A letter arrived from Mimi Smith Jones saying she and Jack are the proud parents of a 9-month-old daughter, Catherine Lewis. They live on Turner's Rock, an island outside of Savannah, Ga. During the past winter, Mimi had been busy being a Red Cross volunteer for the Junior League at a local hospital and leading the young Episcopalians in Bible discussions once a month.

Patsy Little Culpepper is still living in Greenville, Miss. where her main activities center around her son, Dale 2½, and her daughter, Tanza, 9 months. During her spare time she helps Everett in his sporting goods store.

Becky Lewis Krinsky and Jerry have settled in Clayton, Ga. after a two year tour of duty in the service. Jerry has entered business with his father and Becky spends her time in civic and church activities.

Matt, son of JOANNE BEECROFT Hamilton '60

Suzanne Weldon, daughter of KAY KAUFMAN Weldon '60

A newsy letter from Florence Lee Daniel Wellons caught us up on the activities of Joanne Dawson Kirkham. She and Rod are now in Madison, Wis. where she is working on her master's in music while Rod continues his work on his Ph.D. in geology. While in Raleigh, N. C. recently, Florence Lee visited with Sandy Pheris DeWald who has four children now. Sandy, I believe you have the class record! Florence Lee has "retired" to look after daughter, Jeannette, who is now 6 months old while Bert continues his residency in surgery.

Kay Kaufman Weldon is still living in Enid, Okla. Their daughter, Suzanne, is now 4½, but Kay still finds time to work in a dress shop on a part-time basis. Kay also wrote that Marilyn Bell Gude is living in Fairbanks, Alaska, as her husband, Bill, is a Captain in the Air Force. They have a daughter, Lisa, who is one year old.

"Tommy," son of MERYL RICHARDSON Nolan '60

News received in the Alumnae Office and sent to me included Elaine Vaughan Cotner's letter of her visit to Dallas, Texas, with Dwaine where they saw Toni Baldwin Shelton and Carol Vanderwoude Botifuhr. Toni and Bill both work for Texas Instruments—he as a geophysicist and she as a secretary. Carol had a little girl last fall. Linda Davis Kirk and John are still living in Texas. Linda is a chemist for the Shell Development Company while John works as a chemical engineer, but goes to law school at night. Sharon Hooks Siewert had a week's visit from Irene Witherspoon Couch and her two children in September. Sharon has three girls—Susan, 4, Julia, 2, and Jill, 3 months—while Irene's children are Wesley, 2, and Peggy, 1. It must have been a houseful!

Nancy Bartley Leonard is constantly busy with Kim, 3, and Bart, 3 months.

Peggy Creighton Seldeen is not only busy keeping house for husband, Bruce, but is doing work towards a master's degree at U.C.L.A. and trying to "break into Hollywood and commercial television."

Until our next issue I hope all of you have a nice summer and do remember to write me. We want and need your news!

It's hard to believe, but true, nonetheless—the freshman class of our college days will graduate this June. Three years have passed since our glorious day, three years that have made wives and mothers of many of us, three years that have brought others of our class advanced degrees, and still others travel to distant lands and jobs of individual interest. The cards and letters I have received from you during these years have brought much pleasure to me and to all those who read Mary Baldwin class notes. For those who have not written, for those whose news has not been told, we eagerly await your word.

PEGGY PENZOLD Fooks '61, Bob, and Robbie

Nancy Simpson Steinmiller and Bill are living in a male dorm at North Carolina State where Bill is a head residence counselor. Nancy writes that they are thoroughly enjoying campus life and plan to remain in Raleigh this year. May Wells Jones, while working on an advanced degree in radio-television-motion pictures, has accepted an assistantship with the Dean of Women's office as a graduate counselor in one of the undergraduate women's dormitories at the University of North Carolina.

Mary Williams Mathis and Phil have a new baby, their first. (See Births.) Phil graduated in August from Texas Tech and Mary writes that they are now back in Amarillo where Phil is associated with a CPA firm. Mary has completed everything but the thesis in her work toward an M.S. degree. Congratulations!

Judy Merritt Gibbons and Joel have a new baby, born in November. Judy sends word that Joel is a fighter pilot in the Marines and that she shares the gala life of a jet aviator. Eleanor Oliver Egan and her husband have two sons, Tim, 3 years, and Ricky, 16 months. Eleanor is back in college at Trinity University in San Antonio working toward an English degree and a teacher's certificate.

Mary Cloud Hamilton Hollingshead writes from Norfolk that she is secretary of the Service Force Officers' Wives' Club and that she is also taking a course in interior decoration at the University of Virginia Extension, a course in needlework, and voice lessons—so is kept busy while Wick is at sea! Sigrid Gudheim Thompson and her husband, Jim, have a daughter named Sigrid Lissen. Jim is doing his surgical residency at Duke University and plans to take his family to Yale University next year where he will specialize in urology.

Katherine Smith Tinker sends news that little Katherine Randolph is walking at one year and has a growing vocabulary. "She is the joy," Kathy writes, "of Bill's and my life." Otey Hayward Swoboda and her husband are also thrilled with their daughter. Otey has left her job with U. S. Rubber Co. and is now enjoying the life of a housewife and mother.

Debbie Freeman is now working for the first branch store in San Francisco of Tiffany and Company. Sallie Belle Whitener Gwaltney and Howard now have two small daughters, Stephie who is 2½ years and Katherine who is 10 months. Tilghman Waesche is living in New York City with two friends from Hollins and working at Walter and Thompson Company. Lynn Purdom Hammonds and Don are now living in Alexandria, Va. where Don is a trainee in the Office of Emergency Planning, Executive Office of the President!

Bev Grear Hurt is working at Emory University. Bev writes that she enjoys her lab experiences there and is interested in keeping up with the many advancements that are being made in the scientific world. Charlie, Bev's husband, is associated with his father in law in Atlanta. Tom and I are delighted with Tallahassee and Florida State is a beautiful University. As you can see in the picture, our Tommy is growing up! A reminder to all proud parents, the pictures of your children should be in the BULLETIN for all your friends to see. Please send them to me!

ALUMNAE OFFICE NEWS:

Cecelia Flow married Robert Eller last June and they are living in New York City while Bob is earning his Ph.D. in chemistry. Cecelia is taking a course in acting and another in theatrical costuming.

Emily Reeves Sloan and David will be leaving Philadelphia in June for Ann Arbor, Mich. David has accepted a residency in ophthalmology at the University of Michigan Hospital. Their little Bryan was a year old on Christmas Eve.

Eleanor Armistead Reasoner's little baby girl is now 6 months old.

Eleanor Starke is working as a home economist for Virginia Electric and Power Co. in Petersburg, Va. Jane Haley is back in Birmingham, Ala. living with her family and "teaching a lovely second grade." Flo Bruenig says she often flies over MBC in her job as stewardess for Delta Airlines.

As usual the geographic and vocational ranges of the class of '62 are varied. Two more from the ranks have headed for the West Coast. Nelsie Hodgins is working for a San Francisco management consulting firm. Eleenor Strange Daftary and Farhad are also in the Frisco area —Farhad plans to study for his Ph.D. in economics at the University of California at Berkeley.

From Texas comes word that Liz Lehmann Bradshaw has been teaching in Dallas and will be glad when May 23 comes—Marvin will receive his degree and they can finally take a vacation.

Hermine Copeland Welch writes that as of January she and Scott both have degrees: his "cum laude" and hers "Lordy, how come!" Until he goes into the Air Force legal corps, Scotty will practice law with a Laurel, Miss. firm. Daughter Hermine will soon be three years old.

Frannie Wentz Winslow and Bobby have been at Fort Benning for two years now. Bobby became a First Lieutenant in September, may stay in the Army as a career. Says Frannie, "VMI must have made some impression!" Jane Haley '61, who is teaching in Birmingham, visited them recently.

Ethel Ann Wilkes Calhoun is running the Party Shop in a Fayettesville, Ark. department store while husband, John, is in law school. Their daughter, Betsy, is two.

Mary Anne Gilbert Kohn writes from Montgomery, Ala. that son, Francis Hill, Jr., "is keeping me company while his daddy is serving a 13-month tour in Korea with the U. S. Army."

In Mobile, Ala., Sally Heltzel Pearsall was planning to take several education courses this semester. She has run into quite a few Mary Baldwin people lately, including Louise Tartt Robinson '61, and Sue Turner. (Sue, I hear, is now doing graduate work at Columbia University.) Mary Whitinger Turner lives quite near Sally and David.

From Boston Marlyn Wilkinson writes that she loves her new job in the public relations office of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. She is living in the apartment originally shared by '59ers Eliza Williams, Ann McClung and Carlana Lindstrom Lane, says she feels like she's carrying on a Mary Baldwin tradition!

Also currently in a public relations office is Linda Dolly—in D. C. for an agency which has handled the research for several U. S. Government space projects. In addition to playing the organ at a church in Falls Church, Va. Linda also is taking a graduate music course, and hopes to go back to school full time soon. She already has nine hours toward her master's degree.

Carolyn Stover Modarelli and Bob are living in Jersey City where Carolyn teaches kindergarten and Bob continues medical school.

Betty Cacciapaglia is still in the Washington area, working for the Department of Agriculture. Others in that area include Sarah Mitchell, Mary Eldridge and Betsy Dickerson (who is sharing an apartment with Susan Moore '63).

Vere Carl Thomas plans to stay on next year in Baltimore County, Md. as a second grade teacher. Other teachers include Robey Lacey, fourth grade at the Homestead Air Force Base in Miami, Fla. and Carol Tilley in Nashville, Tenn.

Harriett Hope is still in New York, working as an insurance claims examiner.

Audrey Gifford Eggleston and Morton are now in Winston-Salem, N. C.

But somehow we still seem to be a Virginia-oriented group. Jane Coleman Balfour is still in her hometown—teaching while Dan attends W&L Law School.

The "Charlottesville club" includes Lacey Sanford Hudgins—working for the University hospital while Bill finishes engineering school; Carol Wheeler Stevenson and husband, Bill, who is busy helping organize Charlottesville's newest bank; Iva Zeiler Lucas and Ray, who are looking forward to summers on their new property on the Chesapeake Bay.

About 20 lovely miles out of Charlottesville, Prior Meade Cooper and Gerry are mainstays at Blue Ridge School. Prior is librarian and Gerry is, hold on, teacher, director of development and director of admissions!

Ruth Drewry writes from Lynchburg that Jane Gunnell Benoit is teaching school in Charlottesville. Ruthie is teaching a departmentalized seventh grade—Virginia history, spelling, science, "and of all things, music and art."

Down in Newport News, Emily Troxell Pepper and Ned are excited about plans for their new house. And in Portsmouth Margaret Harris Gaudry is teaching while Charlie takes his residency in pediatrics at the Portsmouth Naval Hospital.

We are well represented in Richmond, too: Shirley File Mayo and Cary; Dale White Robey and Pete; Betsy Scott Featherstone, Jim and daughter, Mary Beth.

Rachel Ellis (fifth grade teacher in Henrico County) and Kit Kavanagh share an apartment in Richmond with Becka Quinn '64. According to Martha Butler Matthews, Kit "has turned interior decorator (judging by the apartment) and artist (taking lessons at the Virginia Museum.)"

Martha, who is now a public assistance social worker at the Chesterfield County Department of Welfare, was in Anne Ruth's wedding in September. "Annie wore my wedding dress and mantilla—sort of like seeing the ceremony I was too dazed to take in before."

Personnel interviewer Jenny Wilson Green (for a Richmond employment agency) writes that Ted "struggles through such horrors as comparative anatomy, and the like, and seems to enjoy it." Their household includes Bassett pup, Samuel Wellington Green, and the hamsters—"12 at one time (Horace, Mabel and 10 babies); but we're down to three right now."

As for your Dorothy Kilgallen of the last two years, this is my closing column. The mantle is about to descend upon some unsuspecting person. Watch out! I plan to be at Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism in the fall. For the future, watch the newspapers. For the present, anybody got any used snowshoes for sale? Cheap?

With some 40 responses to my plea for class news I reaffirm my high esteem for the class of '63.

From Carpie Gould Coulbourn, who's teaching second grade in Richmond, I hear that Molly Cochran Jordan and Herbert live in Memphis, and Camille Head Howard and Bobby are in Dayton, Ohio.

Carpie also said that Jenny Stott has returned from her lengthy European tour.

Bitty Davis and her sister have an apartment at Virginia Beach. She visited with Libby Linn who was in Hampton doing U.N.C. graduate school field work.

Jeane Murdoch Joyner teaches junior high English and journalism, advises the yearbook, and studies photography as her husband, George, continues his second year with Aerojet General's Minute Man project in Rancho Cordova, Calif.

Honey Bessire Morris and Larry will move to Modesto, Calif. in June for Larry's two years of general practice residency at Stanislaus County Hospital. Honey said that Nancy Campbell is married and living in Lemoore, Calif. Her husband is a pilot.

Robbie Nelson and Vicky Ellis live at Virginia Beach and are planning a trip to California this summer. Robbie is teaching an intermediate class of retarded children.

Melissa Kimes visited Helen Arrowood and Judy Bastian in their Virginia Beach apartment before she started school in St. Louis.

Bunny Wishart Johnson, whose husband, George, is with Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. in Baltimore, visited with Ingrid Carlson who will get her master's at Columbia in library science this August.

Susan Savage Bolling's husband, Robert, was promoted to representative to Eastern Carolina for the Tidewater Oil Co. They live in Edenton, N. C.

Becky Cannaday Merchant is in Charlotte while husband Holt helps Uncle Sam in Germany. Becky will join him by June. She went to Europe with Nancy Ely last summer. Nancy is enjoying molding young third-graders' minds in New Mexico.

Betsy Fitch Benton is teaching second grade in Chapel Hill where she graduated with a degree in elementary education. Clyde finishes at UNC this year and plans to go to law school.

After spending their honeymoon in London, Lin Roberts Madara and Ted are in Drexel Hill, Penna. Ted is with Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co. and Lin is continuing with her knitting.

Anna Kate Reid Hipp works in the Capital Campaigns Department of the University of Pennsylvania. She continues her education by joining a local book club.

Shearer Troxell tells me that Ann Appleton is teaching in Las Vegas; Lyn Butts Preston is teaching at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., where Bob is stationed; and Joan Stanley Maroulis and Peter live in Twentynine Palms, Calif. Shearer will live in Richmond after she and Jack Luck are married this summer.

Susan Sale Luck received her degree in history last August at Long Beach (Calif.) State College. She and Jimmy, who is in Space Object Identification, live just five blocks from Keene Roadman in Colorado Springs. Keene is teaching junior high English and Spanish while taking skin-diving lessons from a professional. She'll dive off the coast of Hawaii while studying marine biology at the University of Hawaii this summer.

Margie Hornbarger Hancock and Steve are remodeling a farm house near Covington and she says there's plenty of room for all of us. Joann Brown Morton is enjoying her 1890 brick home at Ft. Myer, Va. Joann took graduate courses in guidance and teaches swimming at a Washington YWCA while Ashby's unit is handling state arrivals, departures, ceremonies, etc.

Rita Cooper Russ wants "visitors please" in her Key West, Fla. home where Jim is stationed with the Coast Guard. She tells me that Dixie Lou Chastain Lemons, husband Jim, and child are living in Miami.

Nell Rogers, who's making summer wedding plans, said that Faye Baker is married to Bill Clark. Betsy Brantley and Ebbie Emens are teaching school in Birmingham where they often see Ann Dial who is training to be a bank teller.

Sally Dupree graduated from LSU with a degree in government and is now studying library science there. She'll live in Atlanta this fall where her husband-to-be is working on his Ph.D. in political science at Emory.

Macon Clement Riddle is teaching fifth grade in Fairfax County until Hill finishes seminary this summer. Then they'll be in southern Virginia.

Emily Dethloff tells me that Emily Kittredge Stewart and husband Bill live in Columbus, Ohio, where Bill is in law school and Em is taking courses toward her degree. Also, Jill Callaway Garrett's husband, Jerry, has his own insurance company in Goodlettsville, Tenn.

Frances LaNieve is working for the AAA in Knoxville, while Sandy Bourkard Lockett and two sons, Scott and Jeff, live in Oklahoma where Steve is in the Air Force. Eleanor Dunlap has moved to Knoxville recently with her family where she is teaching and doing secretarial work.

Suz Smith is assistant fashion editor for WOMAN'S DAY magazine. Minta McDiarmid works for Southern Bell in Atlanta. Minta would welcome a roommate for the summer if any one is down that way.

Jerri Beth Percival, who is getting her teacher's certificate in Little Rock, hopes to come to Virginia for Carolyn Haldeman's and Sally Livingston's weddings this summer.

Katharine Scott Jones is taking education and music courses at U.Va. while working at the hospital. Janet Bish is also in Charlottesville studying cytology.

Chere Foye is modelling and substitute teaching in the Pittsburgh area.

Betsy Grubbs Roberts' husband, Chuck, is a civil engineer for Humble Oil and Refining in Houston.

Judy Thompson Hatcher and Peter live in Farmville where he goes to Hampden-Sydney and she works with the department of public welfare.

Honey Inglish teaches junior high English in San Antonio. She's making her debut with Sue Jordan and Marty Bailey. Sue graduated from the University of Texas with a degree in math and is now working for the National Cash Register Company.

Carolyn Reed Smith is working for a publishing company and taking fine arts courses at Harvard in Cambridge, Mass.

Carolyn Epperson and Holly Hanson are in Boston. Carolyn works at the Peter Brigham Brent Hospital as a research biochemist. Holly is with Blue Cross-Blue Shield in Personnel.

Mary Roberts Bird is a secretary to a physics professor at M.I.T. while her husband studies international relations at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy.

As a newly commissioned officer in the Navy, Terry Lee Alexander is Assistant Administrative Officer at the headquarters of the Naval Air Station, Pacific Missile Range in Pt. Mugu, Calif.

Jane Ellen Vaughan works with Family Service and Travelers Aid in Newport News, and Julia Pond will graduate from nursing school in Richmond this September.

Emily Tyler and I are still keeping things in order at MBC and we hope all of you are planning to return for our first reunion. It won't be long you know!

'64 BEV LEETCH
Mary Baldwin College
Staunton, Virginia

There's not much time left until THE day! About 95 of us will receive degrees on June 7. Six have already left school, having completed their requirements in February and four of them are teaching:

Margaret Cole has a ninth grade English class at John Randolph Tucker High School in Richmond, Va. Anne Nimmo is teaching fourth grade in Roanoke County, Va.

Juliane Jorgensen Taylor plans to do substitute teaching in Anniston, Ala. where her husband, Bob, is a minister. Billie Litton Clark and Rogers are living in Elizabethtown, N. C. Billie plans to teach next fall.

Glenn Ellen Downie assumes a position with the World's Fair in New York this spring. Niki Fox is living in Washington where she is working with the National Gallery.

Those who sent contributions to Annual Giving this year also had some news. Sandy Ozmun will graduate from Oklahoma University in May with the B.S. degree in lab technology. Judy Floeter is graduating from the University of Texas in June and plans to work in Atlanta. Ann Elise King graduated from Katherine Gibbs School in Boston in June '63. She is now secretary-receptionist to the State Superintendent of Schools and is a new provisional member of the Junior League.

Carol Vogel is working with the telephone company in Washington, D. C. She is also a member of a little theater group in Georgetown.

We'd love to hear from more of you, so write!

'65

The Alumnae Office received the following news from those of you who contributed to Annual Giving:

Betsy Dismer and Dee Terrell are roommates at the University of Maryland. Betsy has pledged KAO sorority and will be initiated this spring. Carolyn T. Smith '64 and Sue Hook visited them last fall.

Anita Nash Campbell and her husband, Billy, are both attending the University of Southern Mississippi. Bill will graduate in August. Anita says that their daughter, Christy, has no idea how many aunts she has at MBC, and in other parts of the U. S.

Grace Cooke is at the University of North Carolina, and Kay Anderson Harrison writes that her husband, Holmes, is at law school at T. C. Williams in Richmond, Va.

Frankie Whitescarver is working for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in Baltimore. She is being trained in telephone circuit analysis and is also working towards a B.S. degree in English at Johns Hopkins University.

"Christy," daughter of ANITA NASH Campbell '65

SUPPORT SIXTY-THREE

A report by Vice-President Timberlake on the financial support received by the College last year.

The report which follows is a lengthy one—and we're glad.

During 1963 Mary Baldwin received more than $415,000 from her alumnae, from foundations, the Presbyterian Church, bequests, business firms, friends and the College family.

We thought you would like to see the results of your own loyalty and generosity, as well as this acknowledgment of the support of hundreds of businesses, organizations and individuals who invested in Mary Baldwin's progress last year.

In its second year, your program of Annual Giving showed an increase in participation and in the total amount contributed. In 1962, 20.6 per cent of you gave $18,094.45. Last year your 23.3 per cent participation resulted in gifts of $22,010.54. Fifty-three alumnae became charter members of "The Columns" by giving $100 or more.

Our great hope is that all our alumnae – whether Seminary or College – will be a part of Annual Giving 1964 and will have a share in Mary Baldwin's on-going program of increasing scholarship aid to our students and improving faculty salaries.

You'll be hearing more about this year's goal in the Fall, but won't you plan now to include Mary Baldwin in your regular benevolences budget in 1964?

Your interest and your participation on an annual basis are vital to the College's future. We are constantly striving to deserve it.
